Mill Valley's Annexation Plan Denied

Formation Group Rules Out Tam Junction Action Year

Annexation by Mill Valley of lands around Richardson Bay and in lower Tamalpais Valley was denied today by 3-1 vote of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission.

It was the first time since formation of the commission under a new state law last autumn that a proposed boundary change had been denied. The effect is to hold up further annexation action in the area for one year.

Commissioner Byron W. Leydecker moved denial, after discussing what he called the "big picture." He said any annexation in the area should include much more territory, and people of the area would then have a chance to vote on the matter.

LONE DISSENTER

He was supported by Chairman Bert W. Broemmel and Commissioner H. G. Marchant. The lone dissenter was Commissioner Charles F. Pendleton, who said the proposed annexation would result, eventually, in adjacent areas coming into the city.

Commissioner Jan Paul Dyk was absent. He is out of the county on a vacation trip.

Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer warned the commission that its action was, in effect, setting a "yardstick" for annexations by cities, and said the yardstick would prevent future annexations.

NOT ALL

Broemmel disagreed, saying that not in every case would there be a requirement for large areas to be included at any one time.

But, Broemmel continued, the proposed annexation took the cream of the tax base from Tamalpais Valley. What inducement, he asked, would there ever be for the city to agree to annex the rest, even if residents wanted to join the city?

PENDLETON'S VIEW

Pendleton, who is a city councilman in Corte Madera, said he left other adjacent areas would come into the city because the resulting remainders of special districts would be so weak they could not economically provide services.

"I see no special district being eliminated entirely by this annexation," commented Marchant, "but several are being pressured or squeezed to come into the city. I hope it will not be necessary to squeeze small districts into cities.

HE'S WILLING

"Maybe a year from now we will have to approve this type of thing and squeeze some things out of existence."

Mill Valley Mayor Michael Wornum repeated his willingness to see the city eventually include much or all of Tamalpais and Homestead valleys, but said any annexation to control the entrances to the city would necessarily have to hurt the tax base of the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire District.

Wornum then said he would be willing to see the commercial property at Tamalpais Junction excluded.

Broemmel said a denial could be conditioned on the possibility of a rehearing if a larger area were included. Both Balmer and Wornum said they did not want that kind of a decision, and noted that the city cannot initiate and annexation if there are more than 12 registered voters in the area concerned.

Leydecker said he would like

Nehru's Body Committed To Funeral Pyre

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru's body was committed to the flames of a funeral pyre today in an ancient Hindu ceremony watched by hundreds of thousands of mourners on the banks of the sacred Jumna River.

Ending an era, Nehru's 17-year - old grandson Sanjaya Gandhi touched a torch to the huge pile of sandalwood on which the prime minister's body lay.

Police had to beat back crowds with clubs when the gun carriage bearing Nehru's body approached the cremation site.

Military officers lifted Nehru's body to their shoulders, walked along a freshly laid carpet of red earth spread to the pyre and then up seven steps to the sandalwood resting place.

Frenzied mourners shouted "Nehru! Nehru!"

Even before the procession started from the prime minister's official residence, a stampede among the crowd outside killed two persons and injured six. Nehru died there yesterday of a heart attack.

The gun carriage was halted repeatedly by the vast throng of mourners. Foreign statesmen and dignitaries riding in cars behind were prevented from following closely.

The crowd was so thick and the procession so chaotic that U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who arrived after the funeral march started, could not join the procession.

Acting Prime Minister G. L. Nanda placed a floral wreath on the body as it was lifted

Violent Highway Crash Fatal To Woman Driver

Utility Worker Hurt In Highway 101 Wreck

A Petaluma woman was killed instantly last night and a Sebastopol man seriously injured when their cars "fused" together in a violent head-on collision on Highway 101, just south of the Black Point Cutoff overpass, at 9:25 p.m.

Killed was Dolores Ann Walker, 29, a divorcee. She suffered multiple fractures of both legs, extensive internal injuries and severe head injuries, according to Asst. County Coroner William C. Bradley.

Walter Carr Teague, 42, of Sebastopol, a Pacific Gas and Electric Co. employee, was in "fair" condition today at Novato General Hospital with both legs broken, internal injuries, several teeth knocked out and bruises over his whole body.

The death, on the eve of a Memorial Day holiday that is expected to add heavily to the toll on the nation's highways, raised Marin County's traffic fatality list this year to 14, exactly the same number as had been killed in Marin traffic accidents to this date last year.

HIGH SPEED

Mrs. Walker was southbound on Highway 101 in a 45-mile-per-hour construction zone at high speed when her car sideswiped the left rear fender of a pickup truck driven by William Claude Smith, 25, of San Pablo, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Her 1951 Ford sedan crashed through a wooden barricade and hit Teague's Pacific Gas and Electric Co. sedan in the northbound lane.

So violent was the head-on crash that the right front wheel of Teague's car was in the front seat of Mrs. Walker's car. The cars were hauled off together by one tow truck.

CAFE WORKER

Mrs. Walker, who lived on Magnolia Avenue in the unincorporated area of Petaluma, operated the Three Cooks Restaurant in Petaluma for her mother during the last six months. She was a native of Colorado.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Jean Hurley of Rohnert Park; a son, Michael Paul Walker, 11, of Forestville; and two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Betty Jean McLean of Fairfax and Eva L. Epping of Rohnert Park and Paul Roybal, stationed with the Marine Corps in Los Angeles.

Apollo Blazes Sucessfully Into Its Orbit

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla (AP)— An unmanned model of the Apollo moonship was rocketed into orbit by a Saturn I superbooster today in the first of a long series of launchings aimed at manned lunar landings.

Although the rocket and spacecraft are only early versions of the vehicles which will carry astronauts to the moon, the flight was an impressive start for the 20-billion-dollar Apollo program.

Within two years, advanced models of both are scheduled to life three-man Apollo teams into earth orbit to prepare for moon trips late in this decade.

The huge Saturn I, scoring its sixth straight test flight success, rumbled skyward at 12:08 p.m. under the tremendous force of 1.5 million pounds of thrust generated by the world's greatest known rocket power plant.

The rocket's cluster of eight first-stage engines, spewing a tail of fire more than 300 feet long, burned out after 146 seconds and the second stage, driven by high-energy liquid hydrogen, ignited with a 90,000-pound thrust kick.

The upper stage burned for eight minutes and drilled the 37,300-pound "boiler flight" Apollo model into orbit more than 100 miles above the earth at 17,400 m.p.h. The second stage was steered for the first time by a new guidance system which will be the same used to place Apollo astronauts on the path to the moon.

The spacecraft, with the second stage and an instrument unit still attached, was to orbit on a course ranging from 110 to 140 miles high, until

GRAND JURY SWITCHES ROLE ON FORMER AIDE

Roger P. Garety, retired as Marin County district attorney only since April 15, was himself subpoenaed last night before the grand jury.

Straight-faced, Bruce B. Bales, his successor, led him to the grand jury chambers, swore him in as a witness, and began questioning him.

It was several minutes, Bales said, before the slightly disturbed Garety, unaware of cause of the subpoena, was informed he was there for a purpose other than regular jury proceedings — the group wanted to award him a framed resolution of commendation for his past service with the grand jury.

And did.

President Orders Honolulu Parley On New Asia Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Lyndon B. Johnson has ordered top U.S. military and diplomatic officials to meet in Honolulu next week to review the situation in the entire Southeast Asia area.

The White House announced today that Secretary of State Dean Rusk will preside at the session next Monday and Tuesday. (See also story page 16.)

Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Vietnam, will fly from Saigon to Hawaii to participate in the conference. Others present will include Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

The White House said there would be other officials from Washington and from Southeast Asia at the talks, but did not name them.

"The President has asked a number of high U.S. officials to meet in Honolulu on June 1 and 2 for discussions of the situation in Southeast Asia," the announcement said. "The purpose of the meeting will be to review the situation in the entire area."

In response to a question, the White House said President Johnson had no plans to attend the Honolulu conference.

Still Probing Arson At Architect's Home

Investigation in the mysterious death of a San Francisco architect and the fire at his DeSilva Island home in Marin County was headed today in two directions—toward a coroner's inquest and Sacramento laboratories.

Marin County Sheriff's Inspector Marco Melovich went to Sacramento with evidence of fuel and electrical failures for testing by State Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification in an attempt to learn whether arson was involved in the Sunday night fire at the home of S. Robert Anshen, 54, who was found dead the following day in his San Francisco office.

Second part of the investigation is the scheduled calling of an inquest in San Francisco in Anshen's death. Date had not been set at noon today, but the coroner's office said it probably will be next week.

San Francisco Coroner Henry W. Turkel said yesterday an autopsy revealed that Anshen's death was "probably accidental," caused by a combination of alcohol, barbiturates, and his bad liver. He said laboratory tests disclosed Anshen's blood-alcohol content was .1 of one per cent, far below the "legally drunk" level, but indicating he had a few drinks shortly before death.

The tests also revealed presence of 1.3 milligrams of Tuinal, a potent sedative. Turkel said this is a significant level, but not an ordinarily lethal dose. The three collective lements could have killed Anshen, Turkel said.

Inspector Melovich talked again yesterday with Anshen's partner, William Stephen Allen of Sausalito, who found Anshen's body, and with a 35-year-old blonde "mystery" woman seen at the fire clad only in pedal pushers and a pink robe.

He said nothing new was learned from Allen, and the woman told him she could remember nothing of returning with Anshen to his home Saturday evening.

Allen said he drove Anshen and the woman, a divorcee who has been residing at the Anshen home about 18 months, to the DeSilva Island home after Sunday evening dinner at his home at 168 Harrison Avenue, Sausalito. He said he then returned home. The fire started about 10:30 p.m.

Inspector Melovich said Anshen's whereabouts at the time of the fire was not learned, nor has it been determined how or

Two Sonic Booms Rattle Windows, Wake Marinites

Two sonic booms rattled windows and helped wake up Marin County early today.

They were evidently caused by speeding jets, but a spokesman at Hamilton Air Force Base said that its jets could not have been to blame.

The jolts hit at 6:10 and 6:30 a.m.

Capt. Bruce Cummings of the joint office of information at Hamilton said there were F-101 Voodoo jets up from Hamilton, but their speeds were not in the boom zone at the time of the blasts and they were too far away from Marin to be heard here.

Hearing Is Expected For Doctor, Woman

A preliminary hearing is expected to be held in two or three weeks for a Corte Madera doctor and his female companion held in Washoe County Jail in Reno without bail for the alleged murder of a Virginia City contractor.

Scientist Urges Atomic Water Supply For State

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A scientist says that four atomic salt water conversion plants could be built that would supply fresh water to California coastal areas from San Francisco to the Mexican border.

The cost: 800 million dollars.

That, he said, would be a 2.5-billion-dollar saving over the state's Feather River project, says Albert M. Gilmore, and his plan would make much of the project unnecessary.

Gilmore, 57, is a scientist with Industrial Rockets Inc. of Downey. His plan:

Construction of nuclear high pressure, high temperature—up to 1,800 degrees Fahrenheit—conversion plants at Pt. Reyes, 30 miles north of San Francisco, Estero Bay near Paso Robles, Port Hueneme near Oxnard, and on the coast between San Clemente and Camp Pendleton.

The cost of the fresh water would be 20 cents per 1,000 gallons, Gilmore said. His cost exceeds the cost of present fresh water from the Colorado River and the Owens Valley. But these sources are being used to the limit, he said.

A pilot plant near San Glemente would be the first step. Gilmore set the cost at 5 million dollars and said it could be operating within 18 months.

Blaze Razes Square Mile

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (UPI) — A spectacular fire destroyed a square mile of abandoned stockyards and Hudson River piers early today, trapping three firemen on a tower and showering sparks on the New York watefront. Damage was estimated in the millions of dollars. More than 450 firemen fought the general alarm blaze for four hours before bringing it under control.

The fire started in an abandoned stock pen about two blocks from the riverfront and spread, through heavy brush, to the piers.

The property is owned by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The stockyards are no longer used and the piers are used only to load freight on barges.

Dr. Williams headed a three-man surgical team which restored the hand May 16 in an operation at Community Hospital which took almost five hours. Hospital officials said Wednesday that Mrs. Bray, 39, is almost ready for intensive therapy to regain use of the hand.

Burning Vessel Holds Treasure Between Decks

SAN DIEGO (AP)—A million dollars worth of silver, copper and aluminum was reported by the San Diego Union to be aboard the burning Norwegian freighter Sandanger, now aground on a stretch of sand between San Diego Bay and the ocean.

The Union said in a copyrighted story yesterday it had learned the ship carried 175 bars of silver, valued at approximately $290,000; 1,000 tons of copper ingots, valued at $620,000, and 200 tons of aluminum valued at $100,000.

It also carried cotton and other inflammable cargo that was feeding the flames.

Tugs deliberately grounded the Sandanger Wednesday to prevent it from sinking, and a salvage claim has been filed in federal court by the Tampa Tugs and Towing Co.

The company owns one of two tugs that towed the burning ship 400 miles.

It caught fire May 18 off the coast of Baja California, Mexico, and ten persons are believed to have perished. One burned body was found in the sea. Nine are missing.

Lt. M. C. Burg, who led a Navy party that boarded the hot ship Tuesday night, said no bodies and no bones were visible — "Nothing except stuff that wouldn't burn." He said he and his men noted stacks of metal ingots between decks, which he figured was worth a fortune.

Nixon, Scranton Tell Barry They're Neutral In California

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Persons not actually involved in the California Primary's key contests nonetheless continue to make significant news in the crucial campaign.

Yesterday was typical, as candidates, their friends and outsiders barraged the state's seven million voters, who must feel about as unwanted as a bikini-clad blonde at boot camp.

While Nelson Rockefeller and Barry Goldwater hopped all over the state, here are the main events in the Republican presidential race.

But a Scranton supporter, Sen. Hugh Scott (R-Pa.), declared it would be logical for Scranton backers to vote for Rockefeller. A victory for the New York governor would boost Scranton's chances for the prize, Scott contended.

Eight state legislators announced their support of Goldwater, accusing Rockefeller of "party-wrecking tactics." They are Assemblymen James Whatmore, Garden Grove; Robert E. Badham, Costa Mesa; Charles Chapel, Redondo Beach; Frank Lanterman, La Canada; Hale Ashcraft, La Jolla; John Collier, South Pasadena; and Sens. Clark Bradley, San Jose, and John Murdy, Santa Ana.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown foresaw a Rockefeller victory, adding that former President Eisenhower's "obvious effort to say that Goldwater does not meet his qualifications" helps Rockefeller.

Pension advocate George McLain brought suit in federal court to bar Friday's television debate between Alan Cranston and Pierre Salinger. Hours later, an agreement was reached in which the Salinger-Cranston encounter would take place, with McLain, Walter Buchanan, Harold Fields and Mark Morris receiving time Saturday and Sunday.

Cranston said he has made "notable reforms" in the system of state inheritance tax appraisers, whom he appoints by state law. He added, "I am the first controller to break the color barrier by appointing Negro appraisers."

Salinger has sharply criticized Cranston for allegedly requiring campaign contributions in return for appraising jobs, and for being weak on civil rights.

Cranston also said the main campaign issue "is whether the rank and file Democrats will continue to have a voice in his party's affairs, or whether Jesse Unruh will move a step closer to becoming absolute dictator of the party."

In the Republican senatorial contest:

Lee Kaiser blasted Cranston's accepting political contributions from appraisers and demanded: "How about a code of ethics for him? The least an ethical man would do in the circumstances would be to refuse to accept as much as one cent . . ."

George Murphy called on Cranston and Salinger to report their campaign expenditures and contributions. He said he's leading Kaiser and Fred Hall, and is eager to take on either of the two leading Democratic hopefuls.

Common Cold Fight Is Making Progress

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UPI)—The man with the common cold won't believe it but science is making progress against this scourge of the race. Indeed, Dr. Dorothy Hamre, the common cold authority, is rather jubilant about the progress because science has had so many years of abject failures.

Unfortunately the progress is all in getting at the cause of the common cold. There is none so far in shaping weapons to lick one. That will come eventually, however, when science knows precisely how many kinds of viruses can be responsible.

Doctor Hamre said she was "encouraged" by how well the identification of these virus types is going, thanks to the improved techniques which permit virologists such as herself to isolate and grow common cold viruses in their laboratories.

She is one of the discoverers of rhinoviruses which in the past eight years have been positively identified as common cold causers. In her laboratory at the University of Chicago she and her associates have identified 22 types. Other virologists have identified 12 to 20.

But according to her calculation they are responsible for only 15 to 25 per cent of common colds in adults over an entire year although they may be responsible for much larger percentages during certain seasons. Even so it is evident to her that other viruses cause the common cold which up to the present are escaping the best detection techniques.

A further complication is that some of the so-called flu viruses will cause serious respiratory illness, with fever, in children and let adults off with mere colds. These include the para-influenza viruses types 1, 2, 3 and 4 and the respiratory syncytial virus.

"The prospect for an effective vaccine to control the common cold in the near future is not very bright," she said in summing up the present state of science's efforts in the technical journal, Postgraduate Medicine.

Making such a vaccine is a staggering assignment, she said, because so many viruses are "candidates" for being included in one.

"Obviously the rhinoviruses would be an important component of any vaccine formulated for preventing the common cold in young adults. When more information is available concerning common colds in different areas, it may be possible to select certain types of rhinovirus as the most common and the most widely distributed across the country."

So much for preventing common cold viruses from taking hold. As for doing something to kill them after they've taken hold, everything depends upon discovery of "an anti-viral agent," she said.

"Because viruses multiply only inside living cells, anti-viral substances must be very selective in their activity, inhibiting or destroying only the virus without damaging the host cell."

She saw some hope in the discovery a few years ago that cells themselves manufacture anti-viral substances which science calls "interferons." Much scientific effort is going into understanding these substances and learning how to use them as virus-stoppers.

The body had lain in state on the porch through the night as hundreds of thousands of sorrowing Indians passed in mournful homage.

To the beat of muffled drums, an honor guard of Indian soldiers and sailors accompanied Nehru's bier as six horses slowly drew it along the six-mile route to the Hindu funeral pyre.

Trees along the route were filled with spectators. Many tumbled to the ground when overloaded branches gave way.

Although Nehru was an agnostic, the ritual of Hinduism—the majority religion of India—was followed strictly.

British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and Admiral of the Fleet Earl Mountbatten, representing Queen Elizabeth II, were among the first to arrive at New Delhi.

Other early arrivals were Soviet First Deputy Alex Kosygin and Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike, prime minister of Ceylon.

Among the messages of condolence came one from Communist China, which defeated India in a brief, undeclared border war in 1962. Premier Chou En-lai's message cited the bonds of friendship between the people of India and China, despite differences between the nations.

Home Minister Nanda, 63, was sworn in as Nehru's interim successor yesterday because he was the senior member of the Cabinet.

Nehru, who had served as one of India's leaders for four decades and its only prime minister since independence in 1947, made no provision for a successor to govern India's 470 million people.

The favorite in most political speculation is the minister without portfolio, Lal Bahadur Shastri, Nehru's closest political confidant who had served as deputy prime minister in effect since Nehru suffered a stroke last January.

to see the annexed area at least large enough to eliminate the Kay Park Sewer Maintenance District and Almonte Sanitary District. He said he could not expect the city to promote one large enough to include all of the Tamalpais Fire Ditsrict.

Wornum said the proposed annexation is not being protested by the two sanitation districts and, in fact, their tax rates might be lowered by the boundary change.

Marchant said he would have been more willing to support an annexation if it had been a "cross section." He said the heart of the tax base should not have been taken without some of the areas of potential liability, mainly residences, being included also.

Pendleton said the entire area would gain by having the city contral planning, noting that eight county land use zones are applied within a small area at Tamalpais Junction.

Marchant countered that the zoning generally corersponds to land use in the area.

"You're not going to change the land use quickly by this annexation," he predicted.

After the decision, the commission voted that in the future all proposals to come before it must be accompanied by a formal recommendation by the commission executive officer (Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows), with accompanying data.

The commission quickly approved three additions to sanitary districts, the largest being 13.4 acres in Kent Woodlands to the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

why he returned to his San Francisco office.

The woman, who behaved erratically at the fire, went to the neighboring home of Hilary A. Belloc to report the fire, and Mrs. Belloc called the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Department.

The flames caused less than $1,000 damage, it was reported.

Inspector Melovich said his sole purpose in the case is to determine if the fire was accidental or arson.

He said Anshen's car, a late model Lincoln, had been located at St. Mary's Square Garage in San Francisco, but it was not immediately established whether it was Anshen who returned it.

Police Join In Anti-Drug Fight

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Police officials from four communities in Southern California today joined in support of a proposed initiative to force the state to curb the sale of percodan and similar drugs.

Supervisor Chairman Warren M. Dorn said he received support from Police Chiefs Winford E. Slaughter of San Fernando, Rex Andrews of Burbank, Robert S. Sears of Arcadia and Acting Chief Sam Addis of Pasadena.

Dorn suggested that local leaders promote an initiative to the State Legislature by collecting 292,662 signatures.

This could force state legislators to act on the proposed drug curbs or to submit them to the voters in the November, 1966, election.

45? MAY BE TIME TO GO OFF FISHIN'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — If you are 45 or over, maybe you were born too soon.

A great many Americans will retire at 45 in the near future, says Karl R. Kunze, personnel director of Lockheed Aircraft's California Division.

Kunze, addressing the National Conference on Social Welfare here yesterday, said automation and the pressure of creating jobs for younger people will make early retirement programs necessary.

Booked For Slaying Of Estranged Wife

Russell Sharp, 43, told San Mateo County sheriff's deputies he fired a single shot from his .22 caliber automatic when Mrs. Florence Elizabeth Sharp came home and brushed past him — refusing to talk to him.

Truce In Desert War Games Hinted; Death Toll Continues

BLYTHE (AP) — This could be the day of decision for 100,000 fighting men spread across 13 million acres in a make-believe, but not bloodless, war over the Colorado River.

Peace feelers have been put out by both mythical nations in Operation Desert Strike.

Reports are growing that directors of the operation want to avoid any conflict with civilian highway traffic over the Memorial Day weekend.

The multi-millioan-dollar training exercise that has cost eight lives directly, 24 indirectly.

Latest reported casualty came at noon yesterday, when the pilot of an Ar Force F100 jet fighter was killed in a crash near Vidal Junction.

It all began because Calonia — on the California side of the Colorado — and its mythical neighbor, Negona, on the Arizona side, were feuding over rights to the river's precious water.

Fire Razes Hotel, Other Structures

PATTERSON (AP) — A half-million-dollar fire razed a small hotel and several business structures today in this Stanislaus County town.

The blaze that broke out around 3 a.m. destroyed the two-story frame hotel and tavern downstairs, the Patterson Hardware Co., a television shop, a warehouse owned by a plumbing firm and two vacant shops.

Cause of the fire had not been determined.

CORVAIR by Chevrolet

You'll love the way it climbs, clings, and answers your commands

Scooting up hills, of course, isn't the only place Corvair's new engine comes in handy.

You'll also notice the difference on tamer stretches of road, even boringly long straightaways. Only there the feeling's more like scooting downhill.

Some pretty good evidence of what we're talking about came in this year's International Canadian Winter Rally—1,300 miles of hills, curves and other stretches of unruly road calculated to test the rally-equipped cars and their expert drivers to the limit.

Out of 141 entries Corvair was first overall winner.

CHEVROLET
TRADE 'N' TRAVEL TIME
FOR THE GREAT HIGHWAY PERFORMERS

Of course, this year's horsepower boost (nearly 19 per cent in the standard engine) wasn't the only reason. Fact is, Corvair won the same rally a year ago too.

Which simply points up some long-standing Corvair virtues—its rear-engine traction, quick steering and flat ride—that have made it a pretty potent hill-shrinker all along.

But even if you don't plan to head for hill country this summer, there's still good reason to check the buys at your dealer's now.

After all, who needs mountain air when there's a car like that Corvair convertible handy?

Conti Urges Marin-City County, Bay Crossing To Lucas Valley

A candidate for county supervisor last night called for a City and County of Marin and a new bridge from San Francisco to Lucas Valley.

Orland Conti, San Rafael plumbing contractor, made the proposals at a candidates' night for three men running for First District supervisor.

Bank president Byron W. Leydecker, incumbent supervisor for the First District (San Rafael-Lucas Valley), is being challenged by Conti and by San Rafael Mayor John F. McInnis, an insurance broker.

A crowd of about 60 attended the meeting at the Civic Center. The League of Women Voters of Central Marin sponsored the discussion. Moderator was Mrs. John S. Williams of San Anselmo, and Mrs. James Staley kept time to hold the speakers to allotted time limits.

Both McInnis and Leydecker re-emphasized that sensible planning for open spaces and adequate transportation are key problems.

Leydecker said he would like to see more open spaces preserved with federal help and some control over bay filling. He foresees that parks and recreation activity, such as Point Reyes National Seashore, can become the major economic activity to bring revenue to the county and help take some of the tax load off property owners.

Leydecker called for updating master plans, and coordination of planning among the county and its cities.

McInnis noted that most of the open spaces are gone from the Peninsula and the East Bay.

He said there is considerable talk of creating Marin as the recreation area for all Northern California. Therefore, sensible planning for the future is most important.

McInnis charged that the county has failed to consult the cities in planning and other matters. He called for coordinated effort by county and cities. He also criticized the supervisors for "a complete lack of defining the authority and responsibility and sphere of activity" of the county administrator. If elected, McInnis said, his first aim would be to clarify the duties of the administrator.

McInnis said the county has been "irresponsible" in fiscal matters and its spending has been "helter-skelter." He charged that the taxpayer feels he is not getting his money's worth in services provided by the county. He said the supervisors are responsible for tax rates.

On the other hand, San Rafael under his mayorship has provided major capital improvements and increased services, with a reduction in the tax rate, said McInnis.

He charged that the county's local government coordination committee, studying possible consolidation of the many taxing districts, has not come up with anything worthwhile. No one on that committee "knows a jot about local government," said McInnis.

McInnis noted that Oakland has a coordinated program for the distribution of welfare, public health and other funds. He said Marin could learn from that program.

Leydecker said redistricting is still a problem in Marin. "If our democratic system is to work, the people must have proportional representation and they do not have this now."

Leydecker said the local government coordination committee is composed of people with experience in local government. He said McInnis "does not have his facts straight."

Leydecker charged that McInnis had raised the cities' objections to the Marin Transit District bill "at the 11th hour." This discussion arose when a member of the audience charged that the mayor had waited until the campaign had started before raising the objection.

McInnis replied "we reacted as soon as we learned of it." He said the county was to blame for not letting cities know what the bill contained.

Another questioner asked Leydecker about the county's tight financial picture. Leydecker explained that unexpected increase in welfare and medical budgets, because of changes in state law, had caused a temporary shortage in funds.

A questioner asked McInnis why he had opposed a moratorium on bay filling.

McInnis replied that it was the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, which he headed, that decided the moratorium bill went too far. For example, the bill would have prevented any filling even as far inland as Davidson School in San Rafael, he said.

Conti declared that cities and the county can never get together on the solution of problems, and the only answer is one city and county.

As for the bridge to Lucas Valley, Conti said Marin must let its wishes be known "before someone tells us where to put it."

Conti called for a temporary moratorium on property taxes for industry to encourage light industry to come to Marin.

Ballet Concert Tomorrow At Drake High

The American Field Service student committee of Drake High School will present the pupils of Maybelle Pinson's School of Ballet Arts in ballet concert at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the high school's little theater.

Lyric variations and "Wedding of the Painted Dolls," to the music of Barlow and Delibes, have been selected from the ballet school's repertoire for the performance. Newly choreographed by Mrs. Pinson for this concert is "Hungarians and Ballet Blanc."

A feature of the program will be the choreographic efforts in a ballet-jazz idiom of Taffy Pinson, to be danced by the choreographer and Lucille Lareau, both students at Drake High. The dancers will also appear on Saturday in a program for the Drake seniors' mother-daughter tea.

73-Year-Old Artist Is Showing Works

A series of water colors of Marin County landscapes by 73-year-old George C. Ashley of Point Reyes is being exhibited at the Torrance Gallery in San Anselmo.

Ashley, a retired commercial artist and interior designer, said the exhibit includes sketches made of the Golden Gate Bridge at the start of construction. The water colors were painted at various times during the past 30 years, he said.

San Francisco's 'Miss' Is Named

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Gerilynn Sturdivant, a San Francisco State College coed, today reigned as "Miss San Francisco of 1964."

Miss Sturdivant, a 19-year-old San Francisco girl, stands five feet eight and measures 36-24-36. She danced a Charleston for the talent portion of the contest.

The new queen and the other contestants were tested on their poise by answering this question: "What does the Presidio mean to you?"

Her comment regarding the Sixth Army headquarters was: "It's made San Francisco a wonderful place to visit."

She later confided that she didn't know what the Presidio was.

The Marin Junior College District board will receive the resignation of Dr. Frank T. Jacobs, assistant dean of adult education, at its meeting today at 8 p.m. in room 24 of Harlan Hall.

Jacobs, who also serves as head of the applied and technical education program at the college, is resigning to accept a position with University of California to do research work in unemployment and automation.

The board will consider awarding the contract for construction of the college center building, held over from last week so that a bid could be checked.

THROUGHOUT MARIN

Uniform Salaries Urged By Sheriff

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos last night urged establishment of a uniform pay scale for sheriff's officers and officers of all police departments in Marin.

"We're defeating our purpose" when one department trains an officer and he is then lured away by higher pay in a neighboring city, Mountanos declared at the monthly dinner meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen at Peacock Gap Country Club.

The program, presided over by Vice Mayor Charles W. Aby of San Rafael, dealt with cooperative efforts by governmental units on county-wide and region-wide basis. It was designed primarily for councilmen newly elected in April municipal elections.

Marin's police mutual assistance plan was described by Mountanos, and that of its fire departments by Fire Chief Vance Trivett of San Rafael. Wilbur Smith, executive manager of the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, described the work of that organization. Aby told of work of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, of which he is a director.

In a large demonstration, said Mountanos, "no police agency can give full protection of life and property unless it has assistance." However, a mutual aid pact in Marin enables the department involved to call for assistance from other departments and get it promptly.

"We in law enforcement don't care whether the uniform is brown or blue," said the sheriff.

A similar situation—and a similar mutual aid setup—prevails in fire fighting, said Trivett. "There is no city today that has fire protection facilities large enough and competent enough to cope with any emergency that may arise within its jurisdiction."

All cities have "conflagration areas," said Trivett, and what might not be a conflagration to a large city might be a very serious one to a small city.

Fire fighting cooperation is necessary also, he stressed, because city and district boundaries cut through built-up areas. For instance, a fire in a westbound auto on Marina Boulevard would be in county jurisdiction; one in an eastbound car, in the City of San Rafael. Las Gallinas Avenue runs through five different fire jurisdictions.

Fire departments have a "cover-in and move-up" schedule arranged to provide protection in all cities when some of their units are called out to help other departments, he explained.

He urged councilmen to make sure their fire departments have official permission to go outside city boundaries, as otherwise state compensation insurance would not apply. "You cannot expect help and refuse to give it in return," he said.

Charles A. Brown, city manager of Sausalito, said the cities have found purchasing through the county advantageous, and city managers are now seeking to get the county health department to give physical examinations to new city employees.

Smith said eight of the nine Bay Area counties and 68 of 88 Bay Area cities now belong to ABAG, Fairfax and Novato being among the latest to join. The association makes it possible to tackle regional problems without imposition of new taxing agencies, he said.

Aby said the smog control district hopes to get air purity in the Bay Area back to the 1950 level. He showed samples of solid pollutants taken from the air.

The Council of Mayors by 6-to-4 vote put over until the June meeting in Mill Valley the selection of a replacement for Freeman Blake, who resigned as Fairfax city councilman, on the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

Mayor Cornelius van Vliet of Fairfax moved Robert Souza, newly appointed Fairfax councilman, be named; but a motion by Councilman Louis H. Baar of San Rafael to table the matter until June passed, with Fairfax, Mill Valley, Larkspur and Novato voting against the delay.

Two Charged With Buying Stolen Items

John F. Fleming, 22, of Corte Madera Apartments, Corte Madera, was arrested by San Rafael police yesterday on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Police said Fleming had purchased two tires and a wheel that were stolen from a car owned by Michael E. Lowrie, 27 Plaza Demira, Novato, while it was parked at Sweeney's British Motors on Francisco Boulevard on May 9.

Larry D. James, 19, of 39 Ross Street, San Rafael, was scheduled to appear in Marin Municipal Court today on a charge of receiving stolen property.

Police said James bought a tape recorder that had been stolen from a car owned by Alfred W. Goodman of San Rafael while it was parked on Fourth Street on March 26.

Two 16-year-old juveniles, suspected of stealing the tape recorder, have been referred to juvenile authorities, police said.

Last Racing Pigeon Comes Home To Roost

Pigeon racers in Marin had a long wait for the birds to come home from the 500 miles race that began Saturday from Kent, Ore.

Only one bird came in Saturday and the last birds did not wander home until last night. Winning bird belonged to Leo Enright of Corte Madera. Another of his birds captured second place.

In a second race, with birds released 30 minutes after the first, Dr. Robert Burke's loft in San Rafael swept first, second and third places.

The races were sponsored by the North Road Racing Pigeon Club.

Teen-Agers To Give To JFK Library

Teen-agers from throughout Marin County will contribute tomorrow toward construction of the John F. Kennedy Memorial Library in a fund drive started by a student at Terra Linda High School.

Collections are set during the first class period at each public and private high school except Marin Catholic and Dominican, which held collections earlier.

The idea was proposed by Sena Olson, Terra Linda student, who said she felt teenagers are too often maligned and too often are not contributing to the community. She said there should be a donation to the library from the teen-agers of Marin County.

The proposal was first made by her to the San Rafael High School District board. After gaining approval there, Miss Olson asked each other high school in the county to join.

Individual contributions have been limited to 25 cents. No announcement will be made of the amount collected at separate high schools, but only of the total collected in the county.

NEW ENSIGN — Philip L. Richardson, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Wheelwright, Star Route, Sausalito, was recently commissioned an ensign in the Coast and Geodetic Survey, Department of Commerce, in ceremonies at Norfolk, Va. He will serve aboard the Coast and Geodetic Survey ship Explorer.

Jury Indicts Two In Marin Land Case

Two men already under indictment on conspiracy charges in a Marin land deal, have been indicted by a Napa County grand jury on additional counts in the same case.

Ross Eugene Kelly, 64, of Kentfield, was indicted on seven counts charging grand theft. The charges allege theft of a total of $347,727 from Silverado Saving and Loan Co. of Napa.

The other defendant is Robert E. Skinner, 42, who lived in Vallejo recently, indicted on four counts. One count charged him with receipt of bribes totaling $8,900 for procuring a loan. The other three counts alleged he made loans to Kelly which were not authorized or permitted under the state financial code.

Skinner was manager of the Silverado loan office in Napa in 1962 when the acts allegedly were committed.

Kelly and Skinner, arraigned yesterday on the new charges before Judge William Blanckenburg in Napa County Superior Court, already were out on bond in the conspiracy cases and were allowed to continue until they come up for plea June 4.

The case involves a complex series of land transactions in Marin County. Kelly and Skinner were indicted on the conspiracy charges in April.

Officials of the Silverado company say the firm lost no money as a result of the transactions, which were made without authorization of the firm's board of directors. The loans were secured by deeds of trust.

Also indicated in April were Dan R. Nunan and William R. Atkinson of San Rafael, charged with conspiracy. A motion to set aside all the April indictments was heard by Judge Blanckenburg yesterday and continued to next Thursday.

Kids Ask Really Strange Questions

NEW YORK (UPI)—Gems of inquiry received from young readers by editors of the Book of Knowledge:

"I half to make a 30 minute speech on girls. I don't know 30 minutes worth of girls talk. Would you please help me?"

—"Do cats have feelings?"

Boy Scout Camps Could Do Big Job

NEW YORK (UPI) — The 600 camps operated by the Boy Scouts of America could feed and bed more than 121,000 persons in a national emergency, according to a survey of camp facilities. Thirteen thousand persons could be cared for in New York and 10,000 in California, for example.

Bolinas Meet Set

Bolinas Public Utility district directors will hold a special meeting at 7:30 p.m. today in the Waterhouse Building to consider replacement of director Stanley Mette, who resigned and moved from the district. Four or five candidates are being considered for the office, said Director James Dougan.

'Knife-Proof Vest' Found On Prisoner

A San Quentin prisoner wore a cell-made "knife-proof vest" while he went armed with two screwdrivers and a scissors blade, according to a Marin County Grand Jury indictment voted yesterday.

The grand jury indicted three prisoners at the state institution on charges of possessing deadly instruments. The three are Jack W. Chandler, serving a sentence for burglary in Yuba County, who allegedly wore the "knife-proof vest"; Stanley R. Davis, sentenced in Los Angeles County for marijuana possession, and Walter E. Bradford, serving terms for burglaries in Mendocino and San Luis Obispo counties.

Chandler, indicted on two counts, was found wearing a "vest" of hard book cover material, protecting both chest and back, on Feb. 11, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today. At the same time, he had in his possession the two screw drivers and the scissors blade.

A "shakedown" that day also found Davis in possession of a knife, Bales said.

Both men were placed in the prison adjustment center after that "shakedown," Bales said. But on May 14, both were found to have sharpened instruments again.

In the May discovery, Chandler and Davis had hidden the weapons by dangling them behind a wall from a string tied to ventilators, the district attorney related.

Chandler and Davis were indicted on two counts each by the grand jury.

Bradford was found to be in possession of a sharp instrument in still another search, on March 11, Bales related.

Chandler was sent to San Quentin on a Feb. 26, 1960, conviction. Davis followed less than a year later, being convicted Jan. 10, 1961. Bradford was convicted of the San Luis Obispo burglary on Feb. 19, 1963, after having been paroled from the Mendocino County conviction of Dec. 3, 1956.

Grand Jury Indicts Felon In Inmate's Knife-Death

Richard Ruiz, 21-year-old San Quentin Prison inmate, was indicted last night by Marin County Grand Jury for the murder last Nov. 15 of a fellow prison, Antonio Chacon, 22.

Chacon, serving a three-year-to-life term for forcible rape, died 15 minutes after he was stabbed in the chest with a stainless steel table knife. He was en route from the bottom floor of the prison's adjustment center to the third floor.

Chacon and Ruiz were two of seven inmates being taken to the top floor by two guards. One inmate delayed, and the guards awaited him while the others continued upstairs, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bates related.

When guards arrived, Chacon was found stabbed and Ruiz was seen running down the steps. Guards pursued Ruiz to the kitchen, where he was washing what appeared to be blood stains from his T-shirt.

Bales said indidctment of Ruiz, serving five years to life, was delayed until yesterday for continued investigation.

Ruiz, also indicted in the same complaint yesterday on a second count of committing assault on another person with a deadly weapon while being a lifer, was received at Soledad Prison in Monterey County on a Kern County felony conviction Dec. 22, 1959, for possession of a deadly weapon. He received one to five years.

The case involved a murder in which there were three other defendants, according to the report.

Ruiz was convicted Jan. 12, 1961, of illegal possession of a knife while at Soledad Prison and given the five to life sentence. He was sent to Vacaville and then to San Quentin on the new conviction.

His record dates back to April of 1956 where he was committed from Kern County to California Youth Authority as a juvenile for car theft. He was paroled in February of 1957, but was charged April of 1958 in Bakersfield with robbery, grand theft of an auto and escape and his parole revoked. He was again paroled February of 1959.

Chacon came to San Quentin from Los Angeles County Oct. 10, 2961. He was transferred to the adjustment center Dec. 11, 1962.

Trombley Resigns From Parks Post

The Novato City Council Tuesday night asked City Administrator J. Julien Baget to learn whether three members of the city commissions with poor attendance records were interested in retaining their positions. Besides Trombley, they are Alton Lerch, also on the Parks and Recreation Commission, and Samuel Young of the Planning Commission.

Trombley said that he had intended resigning from the parks and recreation commission ever since he was appointed to the county planning commission, as both take too much of his time.

Lerch said he intends to stay on the commission and attend more meetings.

Young said he had attended all the meetings he could. He is employed at Hamilton Air Force Base and often his job interferes with his attendance, he said. He added that he does not plan to resign.

College $5 Fee Dispute Over, Epler Says

College of Marin officials do not plan to ask the attorney general's opinion on the legality of charging a $5 course fee for students over 21 who take less than 10 credit hours of regular college courses, it was learned today.

This decision has been taken despite an opinion from County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney that "there is a question" as to the legality of charging the fee.

It was also made despite an opinion of the attorney general's office in another case which "expressed considerable doubt as to the applicability of Section 6353 (which provides for certain fee charges in the State Education Code) to programs other than special day and evening classes for adults conducted as community services," according to Maloney.

The State Department of Education has given the college an administrative ruling that the fee charge is legal.

Maloney wrote the college board: "Although I am inclined to the attorney general's point of view, the law in this matter is not clear and there are no determinative precedents.

"This office is reluctant to issue an opinion negating an administrative interpretation of the State Department of Education, due to the fact that such an opinion might complicate or impede receipt of state apportionment funds by the district."

College President Stephen E. Epler said today that "we have two favorable opinions. This is it. We will go no further."

Mrs. Jane Sheehy of 18 Golden Gate Avenue, Belvedere, who questioned the legality of the fee charge, is enrolled in regular college courses as a part-time student.

Epler pointed out that Mrs. Sheehy, as an individual, cannot ask for an opinion from the attorney general's office, although she could ask her state assemblyman or senator to seek an opinion.

A woman driver suffered knee cuts in a three-car rear-end accident at 3:31 p.m. yesterday on South Novato Boulevard at Center Road.

Florence Virginia Fabiani, 23, of 39 Jade Court, Novato, was to go to her doctor for treatment of her injured knee, Novato police reported. She was the driver of the middle car involved in the accident.

The Fabiani car stopped behind the Galli car. A third southbound car driven by Michael Fay Mayhew, 17, of 5 Zanco Way, Novato, struck the rear of the Fabiani car, driving it into the Galli car, police said. Mayhew was cited for following too closely.

Vietnam Asks Peace Force In Border Rift

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Vietnam today suggested a 1,500-man peace force to patrol its border with Cambodia. Cambodia said that if the United Nations wanted to send a force to work with the existing international control commission, it would accept.

But Cambodian Foreign Minister Huot Sambath said his government stood by its insistence on strengthening the Troika-dominated control commission and its demand to recon vene the 1954 Geneva Confer ence which created the three nation group.

Sambath said, however, tha if a U. N. force is sent to th area, Cambodia would not pa for it. With the world organiza tion close to bankruptcy as result of previous peace-keep ing operations for which Rus sia and other members refuse to pay, the financial issue coul be the deciding factor in crea ing the force.

Judge Denies Hoffa Delay After Attorney Breaks Leg

CHICAGO (UPI)—James R. Hoffa tried and failed today to get his 25 million-dollar fraud trial delayed because his chief defense attorney broke his leg.

Hoffa argued strenuously in the chambers of U.S. District Court Judge Richard B. Austin that he would be deprived o his constitutional rights if th trial proceeded without his a torney, Maurice Walsh.

Walsh, one of Chicago's to attorneys, broke his leg whil getting off a Rock Island Lin commuter train last night. H was in surgery at a hospit today.

Hoffa, in a personal appea ance before the judge, said h would be deprived of his rig to counsel of his own choice the trial were not recessed u til Tuesday. Austin refused.

Novato Chamber Reports Growth Matching City's

The Novato Chamber of Commerce is keeping up with the growth of its city, according to reports of activities given at the regular breakfast meeting today at Cloud Five.

Members learned that dues already collected totaled $9,200 and will probably hit $10,000 before the year is over. Forty-six new members have joined, 140 have renewed membership, giving a total of 186 members.

Robert Rankin, chairman of the retail committee, urged beautification of the city and endorsed a proposal to turn buildings in the lower business district into the style of an old, western town.

Charles Johnson of the airport committee said improvement of county airport facilities would go a long way in encouraging industry to the community.

At the peak of the harvest season, 3,000 trucks and cars roll along the Aleppo-Raqqah Road in Syria, daily.

FAR OUT TELESCOPE

Astronomy Now Has Automation

By GENE BYLINSKY
Advance News Service

TUCSON — Automation has come to man's oldest science, astronomy.

In a few weeks, scientists from the Kitt Peak National Observatory headquartered here, will ship a 16-inch mirror telescope to the observatory site, more than 50 miles away atop Kitt Peak.

The 16-inch telescope probably will be the most unusual in the world. It will be automatically controlled from the observatory headquarters in Tucson.

"An astronomer in Bloomington, Ind., without access to a large telescope should be able to put his program on a roll of punched tape and send it to us," explains Dr. Joseph W. Chamberlain, associate director of the observatory.

"A technician in Tucson would put it into the computer. The remotely controlled telescope (RCT) would be directed to make observations and the findings would be sent back to the astronomer. The RCT will cover a lot more ground faster than an astronomer could operating a telescope manually."

The automated telescope will perform no photography but only what the astronomers call photometry, or measurements of brightness of individual stars. The impulse of light from a distant start striking the mirror will be recorded in computer code. Thus the device will take some of the drudgery out of time-consuming photometry.

A small digital computer in Tucson will "talk" by telephone, furnishing directions to the drive mechanism on the telescope. This will give the telescope a rough setting on a star. Then, a small guide mirror will automatically adjust the larger telescope to bring the star to be studied into the center of its cross-hairs.

No human hands will touch the telescope, at least for long periods. Amazingly, it will even have an automatic weather eye. "If the dome opens up and it's raining, it will close automatically," says Dr. Chamberlain. "If there are clouds in the telescope's field of view, it will be told by the computer to look elsewhere."

Next year, the 16-inch RCT will be replaced by a 50-inch mirror. The RTC concept is no distant dream; it has been proved. The 16-inch mirror, now mounted outside the observatory headquarters here, has been successfully controlled by computer signals which were first transmitted to Kitt Peak and then back to Tucson.

Stab Victim Recovering; Case Probed

John Charles Foulds, a 26-year-old San Quentin Prison inmate who was stabbed in the back Monday in the prison yard, is expected to be released from the prison's hospital tomorrow.

He has shown steady improvement since he was attacked in the prisoners' recreation yard by an unseen assailant at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

One suspect in the incident has been questioned by authorities but no reason for the attack has been determined as yet, according to Dale B. Frady, associate warden. Investigation is continuing at the prison and the facility's disciplinary committee is expected to hold a hearing on the attack next week, Frady said.

COFFEE HOUR

Ernest N. Kettenhofen, candidate for supervisor in District Two, will be guest at a coffee hour at the home of former Mayor Edward Radtke, 214 Marinda Drive, Fairfax, at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

Radtke said he expects more than 30 persons including the Fairfax mayor and city councilmen, two former mayors, other city officials, and neighbors. Radtke said one of the items to be taken up will be Kettenhofen's earlier suggestion that if he is elected, he would continue to hold meetings with cities in the second districts to discuss mutual problems.

Robert D. Carrow of Novato, Marin chairman for Salinger, announced the appointment of Mrs. Dan Collins of Mill Valley and Mrs. Olive Lewis of Terra Linda as women's chairman for Salinger.

Sausalito Taxes May Be Lowest

Tax rate for the City of Sausalito may go as low as $1 per $100 assessed valuation, City Mgr. Charles A. Brown said today, thus making a drop of 25 cents.

The Independent-Journal reported incorrectly yesterday that the tax rate may drop 10 cents from $1.35 to $1.25. The tax rate now is $1.25.

The proposed $1 tax rate, plus 18 cents sanitary district tax, would make the Sausalito taxpayer's community tax $1.18 or the lowest in the county, said Brown.

San Rafael's this year is 94 cents plus 39 cents sewer district tax, or a total of $1.33.

Costly Forest Loss

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The United States loses an average of 4,283,714 acres of forests every year, more than three million acres from fire alone, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reported.

County Loses In Fluoride Hassel

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A county board of supervisors cannot stop its health officer from using county supplies and employes to "provide information" about the benefits of fluoridating a water system, the attorney general's office ruled today.

The ruling, requested by the district attorney of Contra Costa County, adds that "such activities may be continued up to and including election day where fluoridation is to be voted upon."

The ruling said local health officers were required by the state to offer "certain basic minimum services" in their health education programs.

LARKSPUR SCHOOLS ASK VOTERS' HELP

District Makes Third Try For Approval Of Bond Issue, Tax Override Proposals

Larkspur school district officials are crossing their fingers in hopes that the "silent opposition" will not defeat their third attempt within a year next Tuesday to acquire funds by voter authorization.

Last June 4, a $700,000 bond issue and 85-cent tax rate increase was defeated. On Jan. 14, a $375,000 bond issue was defeated. Both elections were close.

District officials and members of the citizens tax-bond committee figure the largest percentage of "no" votes was centered in the Larkspur, followed by Corte Madera hill areas. They have been contrating their campaign for Tuesday's election in these areas.

The committee has staged a number of attention-getting events in the major shopping areas in Corte Madera and Larkspur.

As in the last two elections, no organized opposition has emerged.

This time the district is seeking approval of a $375,000 bond issue for construction of 10 to 12 classrooms, depending on how far the money can be stretched.

Supt. Milton S. Cohen points out that if the issue passes Tuesday, the district will be able to use the funds within the next fiscal year.

Along with the bond issue, for which a two-thirds majority is needed for passage, the district seeks approval of a 60-cent increase in the permissive limit on the general operating tax rate. The tax increase measure needs a simple majority to pass.

The present limit is $2.10, with the district's total tax rate now being $2.73 per $100 of assessed valuation, including loan repayments and over-ride taxes.

The tax increase would be used to hire 12 teachers for the new classrooms, raise pay schedules, and provide money for repairs, teaching materials and an adequate reserve fund.

Here is what the district has cut out because of lack of funds after defeat of the first two measures: bus service, school psychologist and counselor, one music teacher, two dental hygienists, two custodians, and summer school.

Next to go, if the present measure is not approved, is the kindergarten program, which is not required by law. Double sessions will be held next fall even if the bond issue passes. The additions to the San Clemente and Henry C. Hall schools would not be completed in time to meet increased pupil loads which will necessitate double sessions, according to school officials.

The district has about $1,000 in its reserve fund to meet emergencies. Going unrepaired are broken windows which are patched with tape or cardboard, loose ceiling tile in classrooms, and peeling paint.

Cohen says, "one of these days we are just not going to be able to pay our bills. We are not crying 'Wolf'."

Texan Arrested Before LBJ Visit

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Austin police said today Secret Service officers preparing for the arrival of President Lyndon B. Johnson early tomorrow have ordered the arrest of a 50-year-old west Texas man.

The Secret Service would not say why it wanted the man arrested. The pickup order given to local police said the man was last seen yesterday at a tavern near the University of Texas. The president will speak at the university on Saturday.

The man, whom police declined to identify, had not yet been apprehended.

Corte Madera Plant Pruning Under Scrutiny

The Corte Madera park and recreation commission is questioning the pruning methods of the town gardner.

Commission members toured town parks last week to see whether trees and plants were being pruned too formally.

Last night George Paraspolo, town gardener, submitted his pruning policy in writing to the commission. The written statement and the commission's findings on its tour will be reviewed by thown councilmen.

The commission learned that the girls athletic assn. at Redwood High School had been refused use of the town tennis courts during May because it would cut down on wider public use.

The commission voted to accept the larger of two trffic islands at Walnut and Baltimore Avenues into the town maintenance system. The smaller traffic island should be paved over, the commission recommended.

SONIC BOOM BLAST

Explosion Fragment Just Piece Of Road

Fragments found on the driveway of a Lucas Valley home after it was shaken by an explosion last Saturday were not from a meteorite — they were pieces of the road.

It was "very logical" for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vrable of 835 Idylberry Road to assume the fragments were meteoric because of the explosion, Dr. William Quaide, scientist at Ames Research Laboratory of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration near Sunnyvale said today. He conjectured the explosion which shook the house was a sonic boom.

"Evidently the wheels of a passing car threw the fragments onto the driveway but we have been unable to determine the source of the noise which sent a shock through the entire house," Quaide said.

"It was only after very close examination that the substance, which superficially resembled particles of a stony meteorite, that we were able to determine its source.

"We have been unable to solve the riddle of the burnt sulphur-like odor of the fragment."

Sunset Petroleum Dividend Declared

LOS ANGELES — Directors of Sunset International Petroleum Corp., Los Angeles-based petroleum producer and developer of San Marin in Novato, has voted the regular quarterly cash dividend in the amount of two cents on each common share payable June 30 to shareholders of record June 12, 1964, it has been announced by J. D. Sterling, chairman.

This is the second dividend in the program of regular quarterly cash dividends inaugurated by Sunset directors in March of this year. Growth in annual earnings from half a million dollars in 1959 to 4.1 million dollars in 1963, Sterling noted, prompted the star of the cash dividend policy.

Tree Committee Vacancy Filled In Mill Valley

Mrs. R. Lennert Iglehart has been appointed to the Mill Valley Tree Committee, succeeding Mrs. Alan F. Kappelman, who is a new planning commissioner, Dean Meyer, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, announced today. Mrs. Iglehart lives at 185 Summit Avenue.

Shig Iyama of Oakland and his associate, Robert M. Tanaka of Mill Valley, both architects, met with the commission Monday night along with several teen-agers to discuss their work in designing the community and youth center.

The commission reaffirmed its policy on open area zoning as it applies to city parks and green areas and said it supports the county parks and recreation commission's views on the subject.

Demos Open Drive For McCarthy Write-Ins

Democratic supporters of State Sen. John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael) today launched a campaign urging Democratic voters to write in the name of Senator McCarthy on their ballots Tuesday.

Roger P. Garety, chairman of the Democrats to Re-Elect Jack McCarthy, announced 30,000 letters are being mailed to Democrats, asking them to write in McCarthy's name.

"We expect that Jack will make a strong showing in the write-in votes," said Garety. "Jack McCarthy has been our state senator since 1950 and has dedicated 14 years to serving all the people of Marin—Democrats and Republicans alike."

The law does not permit cross-filing, "but you can vote for Jack McCarthy at the primary by writing in his name on your ballot," Garety pointed out.

Mrs. Vera Schultz is the only Democrat running for state senate, so her name is the only one appearing on the Democratic ballots.

Republican ballots carry only McCarthy's name.

Boston Schools Hit Hard By Vandalism

BOSTON (UPI) — School vandalism has cost Boston around $1 million during the past eight years. Last year it cost the city $100,000 just to replace broken windows in schools. Other damage to school buildings cost $60,000 more.

Boston School Supt. William H. Ohrenberger figures the loss from vandalism during the last eight years would have paid for a completely equipped 19-room school or for 400,000 books.

CITY OF TIBURON FOES FIGHT PLAN

Citizens Committee Claims Incorporation Means That Taxes Will Soar On Peninsula

The Tiburon Citizens Opposed to Incorporation and Higher Taxes Committee, which has held no announced public meetings, made a last-minute stand against incorporation today in letters to residents.

Co-chairmen are Elliott W. Seymour, attorney and Hawthorne Terrace resident, and N. Mack Staley, businessman and Belveron Gardens resident. Members of the executive committee are Charles Denton, Frank W. Holsinger, William S. Johnstone, Dean Larson, Robert A. McCracken, Irving V. Moulin, Douglas Scott, Milton L. Stannard Jr., and Robert A. Sterling.

The committee claims that Tiburon is not ready for incorporation and that ludicrous boundaries have been drawn for the new city. It suggests that proponents of incorporation have made questionable promises to give away part of the tax base of the proposed city to Belvedere.

The committee contends taxes will soar if Tiburon incorporates.

The Tiburon master plan has been substantially followed by the county, the committee's letter says. Tiburon will lose law enforcement and planning services when it incorporates, it claims. Police service, recreational facilities and roads would not be improved by incorporation, it contends.

The incorporation committee, it charges, has tried to frighten Tiburon residents by saying that two areas are faced with annexation if incorporation fails: The business area of Paradise Drive adjoining near Belvedere and a portion Corte Madera.

The Citizens Opposed to Incorporation say this is virtually impossible, because annexation must be approved by the Local Agency Formation Commission, and if approved may be voted down by owners of 50 per cent of the appraised value of the territory in question.

The committee says $26,200 is the amount proposed by incorporation proponents for street maintenance and construction in the new city. County records show that $95,618 has been spent or budgeted for this work in 1963-64, the committee contends, and a county report of April 15 was in error in its figures on this and other matters.

Diamond Jim 'Nervous' But Will Appear

James A. (Diamond Jim) Patillo, who failed to appear in a San Francisco court for his grand theft and forgery trial May 19, is "nervous and upset."

That was the explanation that Patillo's attorney Charles Garry gave Superior Court Judge Harry J. Neubarth yesterday. Garry promised the judge that Patillo would be on hand for the trial Wednesday.

When Patillo failed to appear last week, the judge issued a bench warrant for his arrest. Patillo, charged with stealing at least $50,000 from the wine cask company that employed him, sailed from Sausalito on his pleasure yacht in February and was off the Monterey coast before the Coast Guard overhauled him.

Proposed Tam Unification Called 'Too Big,' 'Just Right'

Those against it said it will be too big, but those for it said it would be just the right size.

They were talking about the proposed Tamalpais Unified School District to be decided by voters Tuesday.

The four citizens, debating the pros and cons of the proposal on Radio KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" today, split sharply on the measure.

Mrs. Albert E. Larsen, former trustee of Lagunitas School District and a member of the County Committee on School District Organization, declared unification would lift elementary education to the high standards maintained by Tamalpais High School District.

Any unification proposal that would split the present high school district would reduce the present high standards, she argued.

Mrs. Larsen also said the proposed unification would lower the proportionate administration cost and, at the same time, give all pupils the advantages of a larger district.

Mrs. Watson M. Conner, former trustee of Kentfield School District, argued that the proposed large district, by putting control in the hands of seven trustees, would in effect turn education over to professional educators, taking it out of the hands of laymen.

She said approval of the measure on Tuesday would be an irrevokable step. She made it clear that she and most others with her views do not oppose the principle of unification. This proposal is just too big, she said.

"This would overwhelm community participation," contended Mrs. Conner.

Mrs. H. James Compton, vice president of the League of Women Voters of Central Marin, declared it unrealistic to assume that defeat of this proposal will mean the county committee will offer some other, smaller plan.

She further argued that the size of the proposed Tamalpais district—which now has 18,250 students and pupils and a maximum potential of 60,000 — is ideal. She declared studies have shown that anywhere from 10,000 to 40,000 or 50,000 is best for a unified district.

She said the unification will give maximum benefit for the dollars spent and duplication of administrative work will be saved. The saving can be put to use in the classroom.

"This is the time to vote yes," she declared.

David D. Ring, trustee of Reed School District and a member of the county committee, declared a "no" vote would be a mandate for the committee to come up with a new recommendation. He favors either a two-way or three-way split of the present high school district.

Ring also declared that unification will cost more, not less.

He pointed to teachers' salaries, saying in other unifications, the salaries have been adjusted to the highest schedule in any of the component districts. In the Tamalpais proposal, this would mean spending an extra quarter million dollars a year, said Ring. It would offset the bonus of $300,000 from the state anticipated under provision of the Unruh Act.

Ring further predicted that the general purpose tax would have to be increased soon after the district was formed. The county committee recognized this, he said, when it originally proposed a vote on a tax increase to be combined with the vote Tuesday. This later was taken off the ballot, evidently because some thought it might serve to defeat the measure, he said.

Ring stated later, during the question period, that combining the candidate election with the unification vote Tuesday was done "foolishly" because it practically precludes anyone against unification from running for the board.

The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer, will be aired again by tape recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Saint's Day Gives Inmates A Break

BOSTON (UPI)—Ordinarily a holiday doesn't mean much to inmates of correctional institutions. But the sheriffs of two Massachusetts counties have taken steps to correct this situation.

Hereafter, Saint Dismas Day will be set aside each year as a "no work" day for the inmates of jails in Worcester and Bristol counties.

Religious services will be held in the morning and the men will be permitted extra yard privileges and a ration of free candy and cigarettes. Saint Dismas is known as the "Good Thief."

Free Taxis Are Offered To Voters

Free transportation to the polls Tuesday will be provided for residents of the first supervisorial district, including San Rafael, Marinwood, Santa Venetia and Terra Linda, by the Yellow Cab Co. of San Rafael.

Robert Jennings of Terra Linda and Thomas Cole of Santa Venetia, co-owners, said today the service is being offered in the public interest for those voters who would not be able to get to the polls without transportation.

"Mothers who cannot leave their children alone may bring the youngsters along and the driver will wait with them in the car while she casts her ballot," they said.

"With this service, lack of transportation will not be a valid excuse for not voting."

More than 10 cabs will be available between 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. Tuesday for voters telephoning the cab company at 703A Third Street, San Rafael.

Decision Is Delayed On Free Baseball Park

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission delayed decision last night on the Draper Companies' offer to provide a free baseball park on a 1.85-acre site at Biscayne and Riviera drives in Peacock Gap.

The commission was "most encouraged and most receptive," but wanted to get more specific information before taking any action, reported Recreation Director Joseph D. Rodota.

The ball park, of Little League dimensions, is being developed with the grading already under way. If the city accepts the offer, the Draper Companies will complete the field before turning it over to the city.

Representatives of the Peacock Gap Homeowners Assn. reported to the commission that they favor the baseball park at the site.

Donald L. Schweitzer, association president, said association members are "enthusiastic" about the park offer. About 30 members of the association attended the meeting.

Several residents of Peacock Terrace, a condominium development, urged the commission to study the offer more thoroughly, Rodota said.

The commission will meet at 3:30 p.m. Monday for field trips to the Victor Jones Memorial Park, Glenwood, and the Sun Valley Park.

At Sun Valley, commissioners will investigate the proposal that hardball be forbidden at the park.

CLEAR LAKE, Tex. (UPI)—With the March move into the new home of the Manned Spacecraft Center, Clear Lake now is the nerve center of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's moon-shot program.

More than 500 workers, including the 29 astronauts, moved into new offices here 22 miles southeast of central Houston.

Now 1,400 persons are housed at the center, but there are still 1,900 workers scattered about Houston and elsewhere. When complete next year, the 134 million-dollar center at Clear Lake will have 37 major buildings on 1,600 acres.

Sausalito's Planners Favor Fill Moratorium

Sausalito planning commissioners last night recommended to the city council that a moratorium be placed on filling of tidelands and submerged lands within the city of Sausalito. No time limit was suggested.

Commissioners agreed, said Chairman Robert L. Nissen, give time for a comprehensive review of the general plan as it relates to the waterfront and zoning and uses of the area.

The commission believes the general plan and zoning ordinance, as they regard the waterfront, do not coincide.

The decision was reached at the fourth hearing by the commission on a city council request that it recommend possible rezoning and uses and give views on a moratorium so a ruling may be given Sausalito Properties, Inc., seeking a temporary conditional use permit. The company wants to start work on a commercial-residential waterfront development.

The vote was 5-2, commissioners Norman Murdoch and Walter Thomson voting "No" and commissioner Robert A. Anthony absent.

The commission heard an opinion from City Atty. Leland H. Jordan that the city is not obligated to permit the landowner to fill abutting submerged city streets and lands. Jordan said the city may require that the property owner gain access to his property by bridging the underwater streets in some fashion.

After review of a report by City Mgr. Charles A. Brown on rights-of-way and dumping along the waterfront, the commission agreed to ask the city council to determine if it is possible to open streets now closed because there is no right-of-way across the Northwestern Pacific Railroad. Mono, Bee and Pine streets fall in this category, said Nissen.

The commission recommended to the council that action be taken to end dumping in the Litho Street area.

National P-TA Resolves For Civil Rights

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Congress of Parents and Teachers called yesterday for an end to racial discrimination in jobs and education in a strong civil rights stand.

The resolution, adopted almost unanimously, did not mention school integration or even civil rights, but the meaning was clear.

"We believe that some children, because of their race or color or creed, suffer injustices and inequality," the resolution said.

The resolution also pledged the 12-million-member national P-TA to "put fourth ever greater effort to assure that our constitutional guarantees of human dignity, freedom and opportunity will prevail for all children."

Viet Helicopter Fatal Smashups

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes said today that eight Americans have been killed in South Vietnam in accidents due to structural failures of the CH21 helicopter.

This is the "Flying Banana" type helicopter which has now been almost entirely replaced with UH1B Bell of the Iroguois type.

Ailes' statement was in answer to a letter from Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) who had written Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, demanding an investigation of the Vietnam helicopter situation. Bolton released Ailes' reply to newsmen today.

Judy Garland Hospitalized In Hong Kong

NEW YORK (UPI)—Judy Garland is in critical condition today in a Hong Kong hospital where she was rushed in nearly unconscious condition, it was reported today.

It was reported from Hong Kong that the 41-year-old singer was taken to Canossa Hospital by her traveling companion, Mike Herron.

Herron was quoted as saying doctors worked on Miss Garland for two hours to save her life. He said she had been taken off the danger list but was still on the critical list.

Miss Garland, who was reported to be in an oxygen tent, will remain at the hospital for a "rest," the ABC report said.

The singer came here from Melbourne, Australia, where she was virtually hissed off the stage by an angry audience she had kept waiting for more than an hour.

Eight pro quarterbacks got their start in the Southwest Conference. Rice leads with three—Tobin Rote, Frank Ryan and King Hill.

TWO FLAGS; TWO PLEDGES

When Bill Redpath, 4, was asked to pledge allegiance to the U.S. flag at Tamalpais Nursery School in Mill Valley, he replied, "I can't pledge allegiance to that flag; I pledge allegiance to the queen." So Mrs. Joyce Zimmerman, who conducts the class, invited him to bring the flag of his country, Australia. Now Bill recites his pledge of allegiance to Her Brittanic Majesty while other children recite the U.S. pledge. Holding American flag is Jeffrey Goldfein, as Bill holds ensign of Australia. Bill is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Clegg Redpath of 105 Buchanan Drive, Sausalito. His father is vice consul for Australia in San Francisco.

Cheese, Wine, Drug Make Deadly Potion

By CHARLES SCHAFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — Cheddar cheese washed down by chianti wine is bad medicine if you happen to be taking one of the popular new anti-high blood pressure drugs.

Indeed, a snack of this cheese and wine capping your pill may shoot your blood pressure up dangerously instead of lowering it.

This word will come soon from government scientists who have isolated significant amounts of a perverse triggering chemical in aged cheddar and chianti. They found it to a lesser degree in other cheese, beer and wine—though a patient consuming the latter would be high long before his blood pressure.

It causes trouble in combination with the so-called mao-inhibiting hypotensive drugs. These are some of the newest hypotensive agents and usually are prescribed after other blood pressure drugs fail. Nevertheless, thousands of patients now take mao-inhibitors regularly.

Medical scientists don't know exactly how the maos work to give a nice even lowering of blood pressure. But they theorize that the drugs bottle up at nerve storage points a natural body stimulant called epinephrine. Ordinarily, this stuff is released when a person is threatened or under tension. Since it is a powerful blood-vessel constrictor, epinephrine seems to be a prime factor in high blood pressure. The maos apparently dam up the chemical, thus allowing the vessels free to carry the blood under less pressure.

While the mao's are doing this, though, they are also blocking another important body substance, an enzyme, that ordinarily inactivates free-wheeling epinephrine as well as the stuff in the cheddar cheese and chianti.

Thus the tyranine in even an ounce of cheddar cheese can rampage through the patient's system, triggering an alarming blood pressure increase. It does this because the enzyme that would ordinarily gobble it up is being held in check by the blood pressure medicine.

The first cases of racing heart, headache and blood pressure spurts among drug-taking cheese eaters were reported from Britain. Scientists there implicated tyramine as the possible culprit. Now, Dr. Albert Sjoerdsma and colleagues at the National Institutes of Health—Drs. David Horwitz, Walter Lovenberg and Karl Engelman—have isolated pinpoint bits of the chemical from a number of foods.

Of those tested New York State cheddar and chianti wine contain the highest amounts Dr. Sjoerdsma said in an interveiw. Measurements were made in micrograms, or millionths of a gram, or very small particles indeed.

The team found 1,416 micrograms of tyramine per ounce of cheddar cheese sampled. There were 516 units in gruyere, 466 in stilton, 86 in camembert, 50 in processed American, and no detectable amounts in cream, cottage cheese or yogurt.

The scientists couldn't find the chemical in several Bourbon and Scotch whiskies. Insignificant particles appeared in three brands of beer.

Chianti wine contained 25 micrograms, indicates it would take a liter to equal an ounce of cheese. Sherry, sauterne and riesling contained nearly immeasurable bits and in port the amount was undetectable.

Some medical researchers recognized early that the mao inhibitors didn't mix well with certain other antidepressants, tranquilizers and high blood pressure drugs. One manufacturer of a leading mao-inhibitor includes a warning against using it with alcohol, cheese, over-the-counter "common cold remedies," antihistamines, reducing pills or products that might contain amphetamine or ephedrine.

The company said the number of reported side effects is small, about 15 out of an estimated 1 millon drug uses among 400,000 patients. All the unexpected blood-pressure spurts occurred in patients who had eaten cheese or taken another drug at the same time.

Dr. Sjoedrsma emphasized that the amounts of tyramine found in sampled products is not an absolute guide to the acceptability of the food, since the chemical might vary in other lots.

Recreation Budget Voted In Novato

The Novato Parks and Recreation Commission yesterday approved an operating budget to be submitted to the city council.

The budget calls for expenditure of $35,133 against an estimated income of $35,940 for fiscal 1964-65, said Edmund G. Mahany, parks and recreation director.

The income was given as $26,000 from the 10-cent recreation tax, and the balance from community house rental and recreation programs.

The commission postponed consideration of the swimming pool budget until its regular meeting Monday night. Commissioners Alton Lerch and Eugene Trombley were absent.

'Ugly American' Author Tells Inmates U.S. Aid Is Wrong

Foreign aid to Asian countries has been given by the United States with an unbelievable callousness to the needs and preferences of the recipients, Dr. Eugene Burdick, co-author of "The Ugly American" and political science professor at University of California, told a prison audience yesterday.

More than 400 San Quentin inmates, students of the prison's Bayview School, also were told by Burdick that the United States has fallen short of establishing person-to-person rapport in Asia because of arrogance of its representatives and their unwillingness to mingle with the people.

"The ambassadors spend most of their time in the embassies," Burdick said.

We are suffering from the belief that everyone else wants to be like us, he said in discussing pitfalls of large-scale foreign-aid programs in Asian countries.

Burdick's lecture, entitled "American Character and Its International Aspirations," was the third in a series of talks at San Quentin arranged by George H. Renworth, Bayview School principal; Dr. H. J. Hastings, supervisor of education, and Herman K. Spector, senior librarian.

REPUBLICANS!

LELAND M. KAISER
the only Northern California Republican Candidate for U. S. SENATOR

Northern California needs a U.S. Senator, too. (Senator Kuchel, whose term does not expire for two and one-half years, is from Southern California.) Republicans should bear in mind that the probable winner of the Democratic nomination is from Northern California and would be likely to make this point against any Southern Republican in the General Election in November.

Outlook In Turkey On West Changing

By SAM COHEN
Worldwide Press Service

ISTANBUL—A new outlook on the world appears in the making here in light of the Cyprus conflict. Turks generally are resentful of what they interpret as disinterest on the part of the United States and other Western countries in the fate of Turks on that tortured island.

As a result, a national dialogue has begun here on what Turkey's relations with the rest of the world should be. The disappointment in Ankara over the West's attitude on Cyprus is not taken as a signal for a dramatic leftward swing in Turkish policy. The Russians have been quick to offer aid but their own Cyprus policy (pro-Greek Cypriot) is a deterrent to the "normalization" of Turkish-Soviet relations.

However, there can be no doubt that a trend towards a more "nationalist" line is gaining momentum in even the most responsible quarters. This is, in itself, an important change in the attitude of Turkey, possibly the staunchest of the West's Cold-War allies.

Metin Toker, who is Premier Inonu's son-in-law and also influential through his newsmagazine Akis, has wrapped up the current Turkish state of mind this way: "Turkey is at the crossroads on her foreign relations. A blind admiration of the U.S., an unconditional attachment to her, an attitude which only the U.S. would approve, a consideration of American and Turkish interests as equal on all issues, will no longer be Turkey's policy."

Several editorial writers have hit upon the phrase "more royalist than the King" foreign policy — before the Cyprus crisis. Now Cyprus has provided Turkey with "an opportunity to open our eyes and reappraise all our foreign relations," according to a popular Turkish political commentator, Cetin Altan.

The source of the resentment which has unleashed this search for new road markers in Turkey's foreign relations is a failure of the Western powers to denounce Archbishop Makarios' announcement that he considered dead the treaty under which Cyprus achieved independence.

This meant, in effect, that he denied the right of Turkey to intervene in defense of the Turkish minority in Cyprus, and also, possibly, that the Cypriot constitution itself, with its guarantees to the minority, was abrogated.

Turkish official circles are now a bit happier with Washington's recent attitude, described here as "more active." But one is told that a leading power, even if it can't take take sides openly, has an obligation to speak out against the violation of existing agreements.

Just how Turkey's foreign policy should change is now the essence of public debate in this country. Left-wing intellectuals believe Cyprus events signal a drastic change, a shift towards closer ties with Turkey's northern neighbor, the USSR.

The right wing, represented by the opposition Justice Party, sees no reason for change at all and blames the government for allowing the spread of "dangerous Communist ideas."

There are many in Inonu's governing Republican Party—in the Army, university and press—who feel that Turkey should remain in NATO and CENTO but should demonstrate more independence from the United States.

Moscow, always quick to read the signs, has already offered economic assistance to Turkey, in the building of factories, credit for trade and so on.

The Government says the Soviet offers are "under careful consideration." But there is little likelihood that they will be accepted unless the Russians change their stand on Cyprus.

As Inonu expressed it: "The Cyprus issue will be a test for the future of our relations with the Russians"—just as it will be for the West.

U.S. To Stop Economic Aid For Taiwan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States announced today that it will discontinue economic aid to Nationalist China on Taiwan at the end of the next fiscal year—in June, 1963.

Military aid will be continued.

The State Department, which announced the move, cited the "healthy economic growth" of Nationalist China as the reason for termination of economic aid.

GOOD EXAMPLE

Department spokesman Richard I. Phillips said the United States since 1949 had provided Taiwan 3.6 billion dollars in assistance, including 2.2 billion dollars in military aid, 1.2 billion dollars in economic aid and 205 million dollars in agricultural products under the food for peace program.

Phillips noted the willingness of private industrial and financial institutions to increase their activities on Taiwan and said the United States will continue to encourage this trend.

U.S. officials have long pointed to the Nationalist Chinese government as an example of how U.S. aid can be used to develop national economies.

NO SURPRISE

The announcement today that economic aid would be terminated came as no surprise. The United States had indicated that such a move was being considered.

There was expectation here, however, that the decision would be met by protests from some quarters on Taiwan.

Phillips said that although economic aid will be discontinued, money committed in prior years to Taiwan will continue to have an effect for several more years as the development loans are drawn upon.

Temporary Job

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (UPI) — When H. Philip Sawyer went to work for the city, he was warned that the laborer job was only temporary. After 40 years, he's still on the job, though in the interim he has risen to highway superintendent.

Dixie Pupils Conquer Tests—Except Spelling

Except for the subject of spelling in certain grades, pupils in the Dixie School District are performing at or above the "anticipated level," curriculum consultant Penrod Moss told the district's trustees last night.

The anticipated level is the expected score on a standard test when adjusted for the pupil's showing on an intelligence test.

Moss reported on tests given in third through eighth grades. He said that throughout, strength was shown in reading, arithmetic reasoning, and mechanics of English.

Much material being given advanced students was not covered in the arithmetic test, he added.

In spelling, sixth and eighth grades fell below the expected scores. An assessment of the spelling program was requested.

The board approved a contract for $13,298.65 with Brunswick Co. for furniture for the Miller Creek School. One bid, slightly lower, was rejected as not meeting district specifications.

A site for a new school, bounded by Las Gallinas Avenue future extension on the Fagundes Ranch between Lucas Valley Road and Terra Linda, was approved. The matter was referred to the county planning commission and state agencies for approval.

The board agreed to hire a second librarian.

Leaves of absence were granted to Joan Tibbetts, fifth grade teacher at Mary E. Silveira School; Joan Meliere, kindergarten, Bernard Hoffman School; Elroy Munson, art teacher, Vallecito School, and Mrs. Lois Brown, second grade, Don Timoteo School.

Resignations were accepted of Mrs. Nancy Napoli, second grade, Santa Margarita School; Mrs. Christine Fennie, first and second grades, Silveira School; Mrs. Janet Lenci, first grade, Lucas Valley School; Karen Yee, fifth grade, Lucas Valley School, and Karen Jacobsen, third grade, Lucas Valley School.

Mrs. Persis Newman, Mrs. Virginia Jones, Mrs. Olive Robinson were hired as teachers. Summer school teacher and staff contracts were also approved.

Supt. Dennie B. Willis was instructed to meet with Bert C. Corona, superintendent of San Rafael schools, to arrange a planning session to set up an agenda for a proposed joint school boards meeting on the question of unification.

Behr Backers Organize To Defeat Blair Write-In Try

A committee to re-elect County Supervisor Peter H. Behr was formed last night.

Chairman of the committee is Frank J. McClain of Alto, who headed the committee in 1961 to recall Supervisor J. Walter Blair and put Behr into office.

"We will supply pencils to every polling place so that voters can have a fair opportunity to write in J. Walter Blair's name," said McClain. "We want to make the election a true test of two basically different philosophies of public service.

"The Blair approach is a last-minute sneak approach designed to serve the interests of the big builders, the subdividers and the real estate speculators. The other—the Behr approach—is a straightforward one of standing on a record of dedication to the interests of the homeowner, the conservations, the small businessman."

He said the announcement of Blair he will be a write-in candidate in Tuesday's primary election "would be almost laughable except they waited until he (Behr) got out of town on county business to pull this kind of a deal. Behr is testifying in a state senate committee on labor and welfare at San Luis Obispo."

Stephen H. Kaufman is treasurer of the new committee, said McClain.

Female cones of the bristlecone pine are purple and have sharply bristled scales, giving the species its common name.

Living Costs Up But Rise Slows, Officials Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs inched up one-tenth of one per cent in April, the Labor Department reported today.

But the Bureau of Labor Statistics said price increases so far this year were lower than in the previous two years and indicated "a very stable price situation."

The April rise took the consumer price index to 107.8, meaning it took $10.78 to purchase items that cost $10 in the 1957-59 period, base years for the index.

Medical costs were up three-tenths of one per cent from March.

Although food prices were generally unchanged, they were still 1.3 per cent higher than in April a year ago.

Narcotics Stolen From Doctor's Car

Narcotics were stolen from the car of Dr. John R. Lee of Mill Valley last night while Dr. Lee and his wife were having dinner and attending a show in Mill Valley, police reported.

Lee, who reported the theft to police at 8:40 p.m., said one wing window of his car was pried open while it was parked on Corte Madera Avenue near the Bank of America. Among items stolen were his leather medical bag, some demerol, morphine and vistail, some nitroglycerine tablets, vitamins, tape, gauze, gloves, and a blood pressure cushion.

Lee lives at 178 Tamalpais Avenue.

Rusk To Visit Thailand Over Communist Issue

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Secretary of State Dean Rusk plans to fly to Thailand this weekend for talks on the critical situation in southeast Asia, it was learned today.

There was a possibility that the secretary also would make other stops as part of this country's expanding effort to halt communist inroads in the area.

Rusk tentatively was scheduled to fly to Bangkok Saturday from India, where he has been attending the funeral ceremonies for the late Prime Minister Nehru.

Thailand is a key Western ally bordering Laos where communist forces have been on the offensive. It is also a member of the eight-nation SEATO defense alliance of which the United States is a member.

The United States rushed troops into Thailand in 1962 when an earlier offensive by Laotian communists moved toward the Thailand border. But the Thais have not requested U. S. troops during the recent communist offensive in Laos.

Rusk's visit to the Thai capital would be a significant demonstration of American support for that country, however. He is also expected to discuss the whole range of southeast Asian issues with U.S., Thai and SEATO officials in Thailand.

These talks would include the recent fighting in Laos, several proposals by France, Russia and others for reconvening a full-dress Geneva conference on Laos, which the United States doesn't want, and continuing communist aggression in South Vietnam.

The United States wants to avoid a full-dress conference on Laos because of fears it would be full of pitfalls for the West.

Highway Patrol Officer Retires

Marin County California Highway Patrol officers and employees held a retirement party today for Officer Samuel A. Thomas, 36, of 805 Diablo Avenue, Novato.

Thomas is retiring because of injuries suffered while riding a highway patrol motorcycle in June, 1962. He has been in Marin County most of his 13 years in the highway patrol and has been a motorcycle officer most of that time.

Thomas and his wife will operate a variety store in Pinole, Contra Costa County.

Andy Komer holds the career (1,085) and season (315) rebound records at Carnegie Tech. He operated between 1957 and 1961.

Unsold Homes Are Blamed Builder Error

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Management Consultant Sanford R. Goodkin of Los Angeles said today that some 45,000 unsold new homes on the Pacific Coast represent serious builder mistakes.

Goodkin, president of the nationwide firm that bears his name, told the Pacific Coast Builders Conference that competent market research could have prevented or corrected these errors.

He said that his 45,000 figure included 21,689 unsold new homes in the Los Angeles area; 4,574 in the San Francisco bay area; 1,769 in Sacramento County, and 395 in the Portland, Ore., area.

Goodkin listed major mistakes of unsuccessful projects as overpricing, poor exterior elevations, bad floor plan, and poor financing arrangements.

He said that proper use of analyses of market conditions can serve as an "insurance policy" to builders against costly errors in developing projects.

If Gate Span Involved, 2nd Bridge To Be Near

If the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District has anything to do with a second crossing, it will have to be a bridge close to the present one.

District didrectors learned this yesterday from their legal counsel, Jerome B. White, who said they were hemmed in by the legislation that created the bridge district.

White said the didrectors cannot join in state surveys, cannot spend any money at all, unless the proposed span is within the limits of the Golden Gate. However, White said there might be considerable argument over just where these limits are. He said the question was much like "how high is up?"

The board delayed action on the proposed $30,000 study of a second deck for the present bridge due to the absence of several directors. Marin Directors Leland S. Murphy and Thomas D. Hardcastle have both opposed the second deck study. The study was recommended earlier this week by the building and operating committee.

Directors approved appropriation of $10,000 for a trial of 15 inflatable tubes just north of the toll plaza for traffic control. The pop-up tubes, if found successful, might serve as an alternative to the controversial overhead arches now under study.

Three-Car Crash Hurts Two Men

Two persons were injured in a three-car rear-end accident on Tiburon Boulevard, 30 feet west of Lyford Drive, at 5:15 p.m. yesterday.

Treated at Marin General Hospital for neck pains was Theodore R. Henry, 60, of 86 Bulkley Avenue, Sausalito, Mansfield Davis, 44, of San Francisco, driver of the car in which Henry was a passenger, was treated for dizziness.

The California Highway Patrol reported a car driven by Helen Dougherty Johnson, 38, of 39 Peninsula Road, Belvedere, stopped for a traffic light on Tiburon Boulevard. A car driven by Ronald Edwin Imhaus, 37, of 78 Marina Boulevard, San Rafael, hit Davis's car, which hit the rear of Mrs. Johnson's car.

Brewery Strike Is Still Deadlocked

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The brewery strike, on since May 11 with resulting shutdown of nine California plants, was still deadlocked today, with no negotiations scheduled.

The last talks between the California Brewers Assn. and the Teamsters Union, which started the strike by hitting Schlitz plants in Los Angeles and San Francisco (Burgemeister) were on May 19 and no agreement was reached.

The dispute is over wages and fringe benefits, but details have not been revealed. The union turned down the latest brewer offer.

Water Main Bids Called On June 10

The Marin Municipal Water District board yesterday approved plans and specifications for installation of 700 feet of 18-inch pipe at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and Bank Street in San Anselmo.

The board called for bids on the project to be opened on June 10. The installation is in connection with the widening of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

The board approved the agreement to furnish water to the San Geronimo Country Club and approved purchase of a 12-inch plug valve for $490.

Stolen Car Found In Drunk Arrest

A car stolen from Earl Williams Ford Co. of Concord was recovered yesterday when California Highway Patrol Officer Richard Treadwell noticed a man staggering near an auto on Highway 101, opposite Marin City.

Leonard Cecil Hutchings, 44, of Concord was booked into the county jail for drunkenness, then rebooked for car theft when Concord police notified the highway patrol that the car had been stolen two weeks ago.

WHAT KPIX Channel 5 THINKS ABOUT TAM UNIFICATION

The following is an editorial comment from station KPIX broadcast May 18 and 21 by Louis S. Simon, General Manager

"There's a good deal of misunderstanding about a current school unification proposal in Marin County.

(This is NOT a question of whether you're FOR or AGAINST unification of school districts. This is the question: Is the proposed formation of a unified school district covering the entire area served by the Tamalpais Union High School District a good plan? The proposal will be on the June 2 ballot.

We do NOT believe it is a good plan. In a moment we will suggest an alternative unification proposal.

The proposed merger would include the three high schools and 11 elementary school districts in the Tamalpais area. Proponents contend this would broaden the tax base, provide a uniform school tax rate and improve the educational program for the entire area.

A uniform tax rate, however, does NOT in itself insure improved educational programs for districts with diverse interests. If it were solely a case of the bigger the district the better the educational program, California should have only one statewide school district.

The question of paramount importance in any unification is whether the school districts have a close community of interests. The State Superintendent of Instruction says the proposed Tamalpais merger failed to meet the standard for community interests set by the State Department of Education.

We fully realize that a great many school boards and parent groups are opposed to unification of any kind — preferring the status quo. KPIX does NOT go along with this attitude.

We think unification, where it makes good educational and financial sense, is necessary. As an alternative to the proposed plan of unifying 12 Marin County school districts, involving 14 communities, into one district, we suggest that unification be developed along a plan that will insure a better community of interest. This probably would call for unification into three districts in the schools in the Tamalpais area of Marin county.

Opponents of this idea contend it would create financial inequalities. We don't think so. Total revenue for schools comes primarily from two sources: the assessed value of real property and from State money.

In the matter of property valuation, there is now about a 20 per cent differential between the richest and poorest areas served by the three high schools in the Tamalpais area. But the amount of State aid to school districts in part is in inverse ratio to the wealth of a district.

And so, if the Tamalpais area were divided into three districts, the difference in the total revenue available to each would be only about 5 per cent.

With 14 communities there is bound to be a diversity of interests. Three unified school districts would come closer to meeting the needs and educational aspirations of each district than one big district.

This, we submit, would increase efficiency of administration and improve the educational programs of ALL the districts in the Tamalpais area.

Two Ross Men Draft Traffic Problem Cure

Without proposing any radical engineering feats or designing any bridges, two Ross men have drafted a plan which they feel could eliminate the tug-of-war between Marinites and East Bay residents over "where that new bridge is going to be."

Architects Van Norden Logan and Webster Otis, partners in a San Francisco firm, want the state to forget about such ideas as a lower deck for the Golden Gate Bridge or a span from the Tiburon peninsula.

Instead, they have drafted a plan in which Marin and Sonoma motorists would use the now-neglected Richmond-San Rafael Bridge. They would enter a freeway system that would take them along part of Highway 40 in Contra Costa and Alameda counties before being led back to San Francisco by a second Bay Bridge, which they suggest could be built parallel to the present one.

Most "radical" part of the plan, which Logan and Otis quickly admit is somewhat out of their usual field of interest, would be the second bridge.

They suggest such a bridge could be built along the lines of the old one, following its design and thus avoiding the need to face many unexpected engineering problems. Another advantage over other new bridge schemes, they say, is that their plan would introduce no new navigational hazards into the bay.

"It seems that no one has taken an overall look at the transportation problem confronting the Bay Region as a whole," Logan said in a letter to the Independent-Journal.

He then set forth the plan, contending it would solve major problems of (1) extending rapid transit to Marin and northward; (2) a San Francisco freeway to connect Highway 101's "two loose ends," and (3) providing a second crossing to Marin.

"The long-range reasoning behind this proposal," Logan declared, is based on these points:

Growth areas in the future will be in northern Marin and "the entire East Bay Area from Martinez south to Freemont and San Jose." Populations there, the letter contends, will grow geometrically while southern Marin, San Francisco and the peninsula will grow arithmetically.

A second Bay Bridge "would be much less expensive than the proposed San Francisco, Alcatraz, Angel Island to Tiburon bridge," and would avoid the need for either a "panhandle" or Embarcadero route through San Francisco.

The "vast expanses of flat lands now available" in Richmond would permit the state to build a freewey linking the San Rafael bridge with Highway 40 at relatively low cost.

"Traffic over the now virtually unused Richmond-San Rafael Bridge would be increased to that for which the bridge was originally designed."

The Golden Gate Bridge, now facing a saturation point in volume, would lose much of its present traffic.

Logan and Otis also predict their concept would fit in with a recently completed master plan for access to the Point Reyes National Seashore, since the major route to the seashore has been projected as starting at San Rafael.

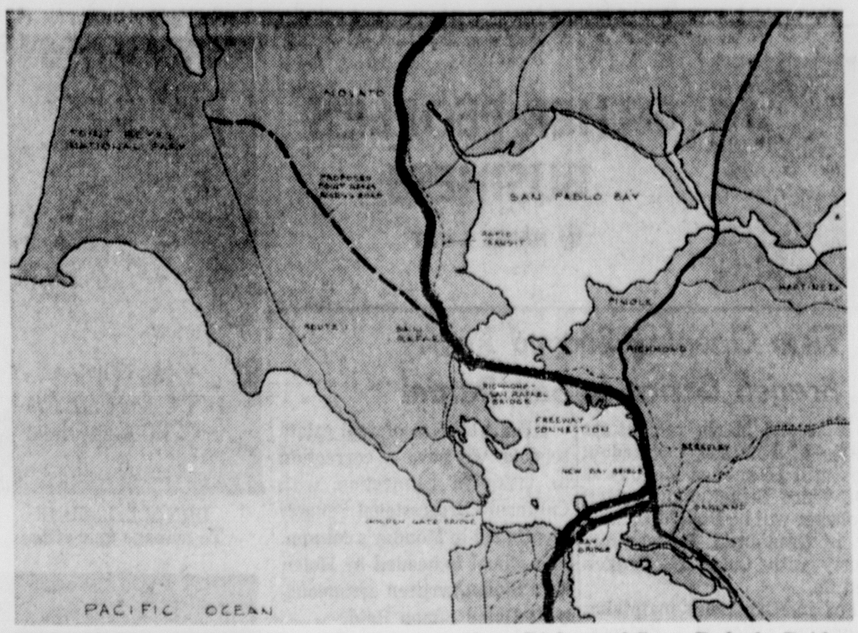
How did a pair of architects get involved with schemes for bridges and freeway routes?

"We were just talking about it one day," said Otis, "and came on this idea, so we decided to draw it up."

Although they recognize that plans for the planned rapid transit tunnel between Oakland and San Francisco are moving fast, the men feel their idea for a second bridge could provide a less costly way to handle rapid transit, due to the great expense of such a tunnel.

On the other hand, if no one is willing to listen to that idea, the architects have one more thought:

"It could be a tube, instead of a bridge, and it would still fit in with our plan. But it could take the place of the rapid transit tunnel."



CRISS-CROSS CROSSING — Latest plan to solve the headaches of all go back and forth across San Francisco Bay is this one by two architects living in Ross. They would utilize the Richmond-San Rafael Bridge (now gathering cobwebs due to its high toll) as part of a west-to-east-and-back-again freeway, eventually leading back to San Francisco via a second bay bridge.

AUDITED PAID CIRCULATION ABC

One in a series of messages to advertisers

Points, picas, agate lines, and ABC

Along about 1886, publishers joined with representatives of allied trades in voluntarily adopting common standards of printer's measurements. This is called the "point system." Today, point, pica, and agate line are rigidly defined units of measure universally understood and used in our industry.

In 1914, publishers joined with representatives of advertisers and advertising agencies, and once again voluntarily adopted a common set of standards — this time, to measure circulation values. Further, publishers cooperated in setting up an organization to maintain these standards, and to use them in measuring and reporting the circulations of publications.

In helping to set up this organization, publishers willingly gave advertisers and advertising agencies majority voice in its operation, its standards, and its application of these standards in measuring circulations.

This year the Audit Bureau of Circulations marks its fiftieth year of providing the basic measures of circulation values. Along with more than 4,000 other members, we pause with pride to salute the accomplishments of this outstanding example of self-regulation in industry.

Through the reports issued by the Audit Bureau of Circulations, we, along with other ABC publisher members, voluntarily and regularly give you, the buyers of advertising, more verified factual information about ourselves than is available for any other media at any time.

The distribution of your sales messages in this newspaper is a measured fact, verified by independent audit. Measured facts also provide the basis for our advertising rates.

Auto Stocks Loom Large In Economy

NEW YORK (UPI) — Thomson & McKinnon says auto stocks, like the airlines, loom large in the minds of investors as dominant investment vehicles in the changing complexion of the American economy.

The brokerage house asserts that "translated into action this would mean that auto stocks and the airlines should be accumulated at market or preferably during periods of weakness." Both groups, it adds, have strong earnings support to justify purchase recommendations.

LONG WEEKEND

Reynolds and Co. says that with industrials "locked in the middle of a long trading range," and a long weekend coming up, the next few days should be dull affairs.

"Despite the general lethargy," Reynolds says, "a few issues have been able to post worthwhile gains, leading to the conclusion that capital gains can still be made in well chose special situations."

DOUBTS, FEARS

Sidney B. Lurie of Josephthal and Co. states that "while it may take a little more time to dissipate today's irritants and resolve the doubts and fears, the chance of a really important correction is slowly disappearing."

Lurie adds that "we expect a more effervescent over-all stock market to come into being next month."

Market Closes High, But Some Prices Weak

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed higher today with final dealings fairly active.

Steels were higher throughout the day.

Some prices showed late weakness.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4.4 million shares compared with 4.47 million yesterday.

Gains and losses of most key stock ranged from fractions to about a point.

Drugs involved in birth control pills backtracked after their rally of yesterday and showed some wider losses. G. D. Searle and Johnson and Johnson fell about 2 each and Parke, Davis more than a point.

The steels, still buoyed by encouraging industry reports, extended their current rally. Jones and Laughlin gained more than a point, Lukens 2, U. S. Steel about a point, others fractions.

Texas Gulf Sulphus seemed to be repeating its role as most active stock and lost about a point.

U.S. Smelting ran up. 3. Gains of around a point were made by Control Data, IBM, General Dynamics and Du Pont.

Some of the cigar stocks were strong, Consolidated Cigar gaining about 2 and General Cigar more than that.

Soft spots included International Harvester and United Air Lines, each down more than a point.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange.

Firm's Report Is Adverse

NEW YORK — Earnings of Servel, Inc., in the first six months ended April 30 were adversely affected by factors which are now "substantially behind us," Duncan C. Menzies, president, said in announcing results for the period.

As a result, Menzies said, "a progressive improvement in earnings throughout the balance of the year is anticipated."

Sales in the six months ended April 30 totaled $11,815,000 compared with $9,591,000 in the 1963 half year, an increase of 23 per cent.

Paper's Stock Makes History On Wall Street

The common stock of the Times Mirror Co. has been listed on the New York Stock Exchange and the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange.

This is said to be the first time in history that a company owning a major newspaper became listed on a national exchange. The Times Mirror Co. is a diversified publishing and graphic arts firm on the foundation of the Los Angeles Times, the world's largest news-paper in terms of advertising volume.

Nearly half of the company's 1963 revenues of 178 million dollars came from a group of divisions and subsidiaries which publish books, maps and charts, provide graphic arts services, manufacture paper products and manage investments.

Listed on the exchanges were 5,345,301 shares of common stock, of which slightly in excess of 5,000,000 shares are currently outstanding. During the past five years, the number of shareowners has increased from about 650 to 4,400.

Increase In Tax Is Indicated

A preliminary budget of $170,800, calling for a 6-cent tax rate increase, was submitted last night to the Novato Sanitary District board by Charles Joseph, district engineer-manager.

The budget would increase the tax rate from 50 to 56 cents per $100 assessed valuation, Joseph said. The board set June 8 to review the budget.

The board approved hiring an engineering assistant for Joseph at $575 per month.

John Jenks of Jenks and Jenks of Palo Alto, consulting engineers, recommended the district install a $96,000 centrifuge and thickener.

Juan Stops Cards; 'My Best Of Year'

Giants Win On Homers; Hendley Hurls Tonight

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Duke Snider, who knows what its like to bat against San Francisco's Juan Marichal with men on base, could sympathize with the St. Louis Cardinals last night.

The Dominican right-hander had just given the Cardinals a full dose of clutch pitching and won a 2-1 pitching duel against Bog Gibson.

"I would have to pinch hit for the New York Mets against him (Marichal) in a tight situation," said Snider, whose first inning home run provided the Giants' victory margin. "Nothing could be rougher.

"He's got everything. He throws four different pitches—fast ball, slider, change of pace and curve — and gets them all over the plate. He moves the ball around, has good motion with his high leg kick and can throw overhand, three-quarter and side-arm."

The Cardinals saw the full slate, particularly when they had men on base, Ken Boyer gave the Redbirds their run in the second inning, but after that Marichal was boss.

Dick Groat led off the fourth with a double, but Marichal cut down the next three Cardinals.

In the seventh, two singles put men on first and third with none out, but Marichal, who struck out 11, reared back and fired third strikes by two hitters and got the final out on a pop fly.

Boyer had another shot at Marichal in the eighth with two on and two out, but could only manage a short fly out.

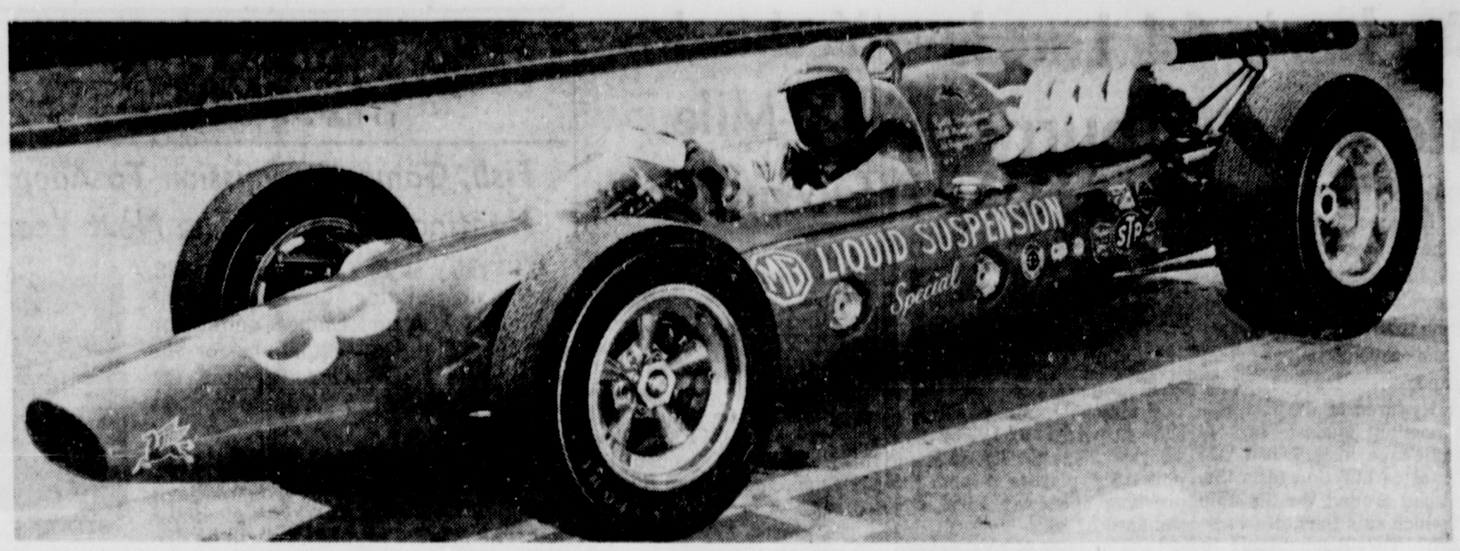
"I pitch with little extra when men reach base," said Marichal in his broken English. "When I pitch a game like this against this ball club, Cardinals, it is my best of the year."

The victory was the seventh against only one defeat for Marichal.

Chuck Hiller, who hit his first home run of the season to open the game for the Giants, felt Marichal was the sharpest he had been all year, particularly in the seventh inning.

It was the Cardinals' fourth loss in a row. The Giants broke a three-game losing streak.

Curt Simmons (6-2) will try to end the losing streak tonight when he faces Bob Hendley (3-3) of the Giants.



READY FOR INDY—This fine bit of machinery, designed and built by Joe Huffaker of Novato, will be the hole position, fourth row of the 33-car field Saturday when the famed Indianapolis 500-mile race takes the national spotlight. Driving the rear-engined car will be veteran sports car racing champ Walter Hansgen (pictured above), making his first appearance at the Indy speedway. Another Huffaker-designed car, identical to the one above, will be in the eighth row, with Bob Veith of Fort Bragg behind wheel.

Jack Hanley

ST. LOUIS—When everything levels out in the National League race, Alvin Dark believes the Giants, Phillies and Dodgers will be the Big Three.

This isn't in contradiction to what the Giant manager said just before his team started the current road trip. When the Pirates beat the Giants three-out-of-four in Candlestick, Dark declared there were four big teams in the league and he named them as San Francisco, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and St. Louis "not necessarily in that order."

However, whenever he goes into a detailed analysis he always puts an "if" on his rating of the Cardinals.

"If Ray Washburn's arm is sound, the Cardinals will be troublesome," says Dark. "If he pitches as effectively as he did before he hurt his arm, Washburn will be a tremendous help to St. Louis. If he can't, then I'm not so sure about the Cardinals."

Similarly, when speaking about the defending champs, the Dodgers, Dark repeats what he said at the end of spring training. "Of the six contenders, the Dodgers are the least improved," was what Dark said then. By that he meant the Phillies, Cardinals, Braves, Giants and Reds improved themselves in winter trades while the Dodgers stood pat, content to depend on raw material from Dodger farm clubs.

IN ANALYZING the Phillies, Dark has never used an "if." He didn't change his mind about the Phillies because the Giants beat them two-out-of-three in Candlestick last week, just as he didn't change his mind about the Pirates finishing seventh even though Pittsburgh shellacked the Giants 3-1 in their first 1964 series.

"When the Phillies got Jim Bunning I said they'd have to be the key team in the race," said Dark. "I figure they can finish 1-2-3, and I think the team to finish a notch ahead of them won't be worse than second."

There certainly is nothing "iffy" about that. So, by inference, Dark feels that the Phillies are the team to beat. His feeling is shared by virtually all of the other National League managers.

DARK WENT through the whole analytical bit again for the benefit fo St. Louis writers since this was his first 1964 visit to St. Louis. His statements here were reported in context, unlike some other stopping points, such as Los Angeles where his statement about the Dodgers standing pat failed to include all he said—"maybe they didn't have to better themselves after last year's pennant and series."

Stanford Elects Grid Co-Captains

STANFORD (UPI)—Dick Ragsdale and Guy Rounsaville have been elected co-captains of the 1964 Stanford football team, according to head coach John Ralston.

Ragsdale, a right half from Medford, Ore., plays both ways and led the Indians in minutes played, scoring, interceptions and kickoff returns in 1963. He was second in pass receiving, rushing and punting.

Rounsaville, a senior like Ragsdale, was second among the ends in minutes played last season.

Semi-Pro League In Marin

The Marin Semi-Pro Baseball League, comprised of five teams located throughout Marin County, will start its 1964 campaign on June 14.

Commissioner for the league will be Hal Fischer of 628 Manzanita Avenue, Corte Madera, a man who has headed baseball leagues in the past at the Presidio of San Francisco.

League teams and their managers are Mill Valley Merchants, Bob Selna; Novato Knickerbockers, Bob Aune; DeMaestri's Fairfax Garage, Stan Gerughty; San Anselmo Merchants, Perry Farrell, and the Billings-Hutchison Builders, Joe Anselmo.

The loop will continue through Aug. 16, with all teams meeting each other twice on a home-and-home basis. The clubs will be limited to 18-man rosters. No limit on the number of former pro ball players was set.

Chosen treasurer of the new league was Bruno Iacopi, well known San Anselmo sportsman who resides at 111 Broadmoor Avenue.

Opening round action on June 14 will find the San Anselmo Merchants vs. DeMaestri's Fairfax Garage at San Anselmo's Memorial Park at 1:30 p.m., and the Novato Knickerbockers vs. the Billings-Hutchison Builders at San Rafael's Albert Park at 2 p.m. Mill Valley draws the opening round bye.

Final Checkup For Indy Racers

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Drivers in Saturday's $500,000 Memorial Day auto race got their last chance today to check whether mechanics put everything back in the right place after post-qualification teardowns.

The 33 glittering cars, stripped down to the bare frames in a scrutiny for damaged parts, were to be checked out in a final practice with full fuel loads from 2 to 4 p.m.

It seemed unlilkely that the highly specialized mechanics had misassembled the expensive machines—but it has happened. The late Jimmy Bryan, winner of the 500 in 1958, was left at the starting line the next year when he couldn't let out his clutch. Two bolts had been interchanged.

Today also was the last chance for world racing champion Jimmy Clark to get in a little practice since winning the Grand Prix of The Netherlands last Sunday. He qualified his new Lotus-Ford hurriedly on the first day of the 500 time trials May 16—so hurriedly he set a 10-mile record of 158.828 m.p.h. for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway—then dashed off to Holland to practice on the North Sea dunes course.

The 500 Festival, an aspiring youngster which hopes to rival the Mardi Grass and the Tournament of Roses, will reach a colorful climax this evening in a parade featuring 33 elaborate floats—one for each starting car—anda scores of bands and marching units.

Times have changed in the decades since the drivers used to wheel into the Speedway on race-day morning in pickup trucks, with no preliminaries, and set about fueling up for the 500. Indianapolis has had four solid weeks of parties, and recognition affairs for past and present luminaries of the auto racing world.

The fantastic night-before brawl on 16th Street, main artery to the Speedway, is to be more subdued this Friday night—or so police hope. Instead of the thousands of fans partying all night in cars parked for miles along the street, a special overnight parking lot has been set up on the Speedway's sprawling property. Authorities also hope a special night court for peace-breakers will calm down the early arrivals.

PITCHERS STEAL THE SHOW IN NAT'L LEAGUE

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two decades later, Nuxhall and Fischer are throwing shutouts at National League opponents.

Each pitcher recorded his third shutout last night, high in the league this season. Cincinnati's Nuxhall stopped the stumbling Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0 on six hits while Fischer hurled a four-hitter in Milwaukee's 2-0 victory over Houston.

The 24-year-old Fischer increased his record to 5-2 and lowered his earned-run average to 2.75. Nuxhall, 35-year-old veteran, won his fourth game against three defeats and reduced his ERA to 3.30.

The Cincinnati southpaw went from delivering newspapers in Hamilton, Ohio, to pitching in the major leagues at the age of 15. That was in 1944 when Fischer was four years old.

When the Braves' right-hander entered organized baseball in 1959, Nuxhall already had been playing for 15 years. In fact, four years before, Nuxhall led the league in shutouts with five.

Fischer's victory last night overwhelmed the two-hit performance of his opponent, Skinny Brown of Houston. In another N.L. shutout, Art Mahaffey threw a four-hitter as Philadelphia halted Pittsburgh's five-game winning streak 8-0. Juan Marichal limited St. Louis to seven hits in San Francisco's 2-1 triumph while Dick Ellsworth and Chicago stopped New York 7-1 on seven hits.

Nuxhall got the better of the Dodgers' Sandy Koufax, who allowed the Reds just three hits but still dropped his fourth game in eight decisions. Nuxhall didn't walk a man and allowed only two Dodgers to reach second base.

The Reds scored in the first on a walk to Pete Rose, Tommy Harper's infield hit and a bloop single by Vada Pinson.

The Braves scored two runs for Fischer in the fourth. Ed Mathews singled and went to second when Ty Cline was hit by a pitch. Both advanced on a passed ball. An intentional walk with one out loaded the bases. Two runs then scored as Rusty Staub bobbled a throw that would have completed an inning-ending double play.

Mahaffey completed his first game in eight starts, holding the Pirates to two doubles by Dick Schofield and singles by Donn Clendenon and Smoky Burgess. Bob Friend lost his fourth game against four victories.

Doubles by Clay Dalrymple and Cookie Rojas and Richie Allen's single in the third gave the Phillies their runs.

The Mets calmed down after their uncharacteristic outburst the day before when they scored 19 runs. They gave starter Al Jackson the usual support—no runs in the 5⅓ innings he pitched. Jackson, now 3-6, has not had a run scored for him in 36 innings.

Archer's 64 Leads Indy Golf Tourney

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Par may have been a paper tiger for the 55 pros who whipped it in the first round of the $70,000 Speedway Open golf tourney, but the roar came today to shatter the coveted silence they demand.

Thirty-three of the fastest—and possibly loudest—cars in 500-mile-race history had two hours of carburetion tests this afternoon around the 2½-mile oval which cuts the golf course in half. They'll sound off in preparation for the 48th race Saturday.

Lean and lanky Californian George Archer set the pace yesterday, racing around the 6,467-yard spread with a seven-under-par 64 that included a record 29 on the incoming nine. The rookie pro had dropped out of last weekend's Memphis Open with a sore hand, and his best finish to date was fourth in the San Diego Open.

Archer led the host of assaults on the 36-36—71 par. Joe Campbell, former golf and basketball star at Purdue, and Harold "Catfish" Kneece, Aiken, S.C., knotted in second with 65s. Doug Sanders, George Bayer and Kel Nagle held down third with 66s.

SECOND BEST

Archer's seven birdies on the back nine produced the second-best nine-hole score of the season—topped only by Bob Charles' 28 last week at Memphis. Six players owned the previous Speedway back nine standard of 30.

First prize of $12,000 goes to the winner. The field will be sliced to the top 90 and ties for Friday's third round. The golfers take a holiday Saturday for the race and conclude play on Sunday.

Billy Casper, 1962 Speedway champ, had a 68 and topped former winners. Dow Finsterwald, defending champion, posted a 70. Two-time winner Doug Ford was two over par at 73.

Three Athletes Win Awards At Marin College

Bob Scoville of Corte Madera, a baseballer, received the Dick Signorelli Scholarship of $100 for the student who best combines athletic and academic qualities.

John Odetto of San Anselmo was given the Signorelli Plaque for being the outstanding baseball player at the college. Signorelli was killed in an automobile accident while on the way to participate in a college athletic event.

The Bud Sullivan award, named after a former student killed in World War II, was won by trackman Rich Brown of San Rafael as the year's most inspirational athlete at the college.

Yachts In 100-Mile Ocean Test

Often called the Fastnet Race of America, the annual Buckner Cup Race will start tomorrow at 9 a.m. off the St. Francis Yacht Club, San Francisco.

The 100-mile event is sponsored by the Corinthian Y.C. and covers a course to Bodega Head, back and around the Lightship, and then to the finish line.

The English Fastnet Race is considered the supreme test of man and boat and the Buckner is often held under conditions of equal stress and strain. According to recorder Don Seaton, 33 boats, headed by Tim Moseley's Orient, will make up the parade on the initial leg, out through the Golden Gate.

The winner will gain possession of the beautiful Buckner Trophy, plus an additional prize and will be awarded points in the season-long Danforth Ocean Racing program.

The race is in memory of Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner, who was killed during World War II. General Buckner, a brilliant Army strategist, was a life-long sailing enthusiast.

Following the Buckner start, at 9:10 a.m. tomorrow, will be the Midget Ocean Racing Club blue water event. Although the starting point is the same, the course is not as ambitious. The race embodies 70 miles of open seas, out to Chimney Rock, off Point Reyes, around the Lightship and then the run home to the finish line.

It will be the third contest in the five-race program. The leader pointwise is Glenn Donaldson's Cal-24, Saraband. A close second is Puff, The Magic Dragon, a Cal-20 sailed by Elly Dowd of the St. Francis Y.C.

Other weekend sailing events are elimination races tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday for the Mallory Cup on Richardson Bay; the Finn class trials for the O'Day Trophy Saturday and Sunday at the Berkeley Yacht Club, and the Small Boat Racing Assn. Division 4 Regatta Sunday at the San Leandro Marina.

Fish, Game Commission To Adopt Hunting Rules For The Next Year

STEVENS

On Friday at 10 a.m., in room 1138, New State Building, Los Angeles, the California Fish and Game Commission will adopt hunting regulations for the period July 1, 1964 through June 30, 1965. If you have a last minute gripe to air, be present.

There is apparently no radical change in the coming hunting seasons over the regulations adopted last year, so that's that. The printed regulations will be distributed later in the year.

ALSO, there is no apparent change in the rather dismal fishing picture. Old man wind is still in control. But prospects certainly look brighter for local and back country striper striving.

The always exciting late evening trolling seems about due. A report from Carl Bennett of the Rodeo Marina bears this out. Carl called to tell me five skiffs from his place trolled with White Bugeyes and Pet Spoon in combination and averaged two fish per rod off the Oil Wharf and near Buoy 14. Ran fair in size, about six to 10 pounds. Fish seem to be feeding and striking near the surface—trollers using two-ounce sinkers only.

ON THE few days, or parts of days, when the wind laid down and the trollers could work the favorite spots in the back country, some fair to good catches were reported. Ben, of the 60 Main Bait Shop in Isleton, who reports on that entire area, and whose reports can be relied upon, mentioned Louie Patrick (The Trolling King of the San Joaquin) and a friend making the grade on Thursday and Friday. Took bass to 29 pounds on the famous Patrick hook-up. On Saturday 31 skiffs went out of Patrick's Resort at Three Mile Slough and returned with 41 bass to 15 pounds. Out of Uncle Bob's, eight boats, 20 bass to 20 pounds; San Andreas Harbor, (two days) 11 boats, 28 bass to eight pounds. Armstrong's, (two days) nine boats, 23 bass to 16 pounds. Bruno's, Korth's and Beacon reported fishing only fair over the weekend with no trolling account of wind.

MOST OF you have probably scanned the PG&E forecast on the trout prospects in the high country, but if your fancy turns to the close-in, central coast area waters, the following places have been planted with catchables: LAKE COUNTY—Anderson and Kelsey creeks; Upper Blue Lake. MARIN COUNTY—Rodeo Lagoon. MENDOCINO COUNTY—Cleone Lake. MONTEREY COUNTY—Carmel and Big Sur rivers; Los Padres Reservoir. NAPA COUNTY — Hennessey Lake Impoundment. SAN FRANCISCO—Lake Merced Impoundment. SAN LUIS OBISPO COUNTY—Lopez Creek, Nacimiento River-Lower, Reservoir Canyon Lake, Chorro Reservoir and San Simeon Lagoon. SAN MATEO COUNTY—Gazos Creek, Pescadero Creek. SANTA CLARA COUNTY—Stevens Creek Reservoir. SANTA CRUZ COUNTY—Hare Canyon Reservoir, San Vicente, Corralitos and Fall creeks, San Lorenzo River.

Salmon trolling spotty. Rockfishing okay, and that's my space limit.

Giles Asks For Cool Heads In Umps' Threatened Strike

GILES ASKS 336-2 Spts .....

CINCINNATI (AP) — Warren Giles, National League president faced with a July 3 umpires' strike, has called for "cool-headed, dedicated men on the staff to prevent any action which would be harmful to the league or the game" while he "communicates" with the attorney for the men-in-blue.

The umpires' attorney, John J. Reynolds, said yesterday that the umpires were sticking to their July 3 ultimatum unless their pension demands were met, despite Giles' first official statement on the subject. In his statement, Giles said:

"Our office and our league is sympathetic to their request for a fair and reasonable increase in their present retirement benefits.

ACTION PREMATURE

"Their recent action was premature. Their cause will not be helped by issuing ultimatums or setting deadlines. I am confident there are enough cool-headed, dedicated men on the staff to prevent any action which would be harmful to the league or the game."

Giles said that in February he had proposed an increase in the umpires' retirement benefits to make these "comparable with those of the players."

"I am advised," Giles went on, "the umpires at their May 25 meeting rejected the plan I had outlined and asked for greater benefits. I have advised their representative that I will submit their request at the same time I present my recommendation."

Giles said he would do this at the regular midsummer league meeting that will be held after the All-Star Game, July 7.

At present, umpires get $200 a year for each year of service when they retire at 55. The umpires' association wants this raised to $300 a year for each year of service. The umpires contribute five per cent of their salaries to the pension fund.

Reynolds, apprised of Giles' statement, said it did not affect the July 3 ultimatum. The ultimatum was issued Monday after 18 of the league's 20 umpires met in Chicago and announced that "appropriate action" might be taken if their demands were not satisfied.

The Scoundrel Hurt, Will Miss Big Race

CHERRY HILL, N. J. (AP) — An injury has forced the Scoundrel out of the $100,000-added Jersey Derby at Garden State Saturday and moved Roy Sturgis' Mr. Brick into the favored role.

The Scoundrel, purchased last week for $500,000 by San Francisco sportsman Kjell Qvale, was declared out of the race yesterday after an examination by Dr. A. C. Colando, a veterinarian. Trainer Mesh Tenney estimated The Scoundrel would be out of action for at least six months.

This means the 3-year-old colt, which finished second in the Preakness and third in the Kentucky Derby under the colors of Rex Ellsworth, will miss the Belmont Stakes at New York June 6.

Dr. Colando said the horse "had an acute inflammation of the superficial flexor tendon of the left foreleg."

He added that he was sure no permanent damage has been done and with the proper rest, The Scoundrel could return to racing.

It was presumed that The Scoundrel's condition developed yesterday morning when he was given a long gallop over the track.

Mr. Brick will be ridden by Bobby Ussery.

Qvale, who also has two cars entered in Saturday's Indianapolis 500-mile race, had hoped to score a unique double triumph on the Memorial Day racing scene until the injury of his valuable horse.

Youthful Marin Netters Score Some Big Upsets

Upsets by Marin County youngsters marked the first two days' play in the San Leandro Junior tournament which concludes next weekend.

In the boys 14, Mike Machette of Belvedere downed No. 1 seed Mark Webber in the opening round, 2-6, 6-4, 6-4 and then fought his way into the quarter finals with a convincing win over Steve Simmons of El Cerrito, 6-2, 6-4.

In the girls 12, Darby Auerbach of Belvedere defeated No. 2 seed Diane Miller of Redwood City, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1, to win a quarter final berth. Darby then teamed with Donna Allen, also of Belvedere, to reach the finals of the girls 14 doubles with wins over Judy and Tricia Tollett, 6-2, 6-3, and Annette D'Antonio and Pat McAtee, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3.

In the boys 12, Carter Ingram of Belvedere defeated Chris Morgan of San Rafael, 11-9, 1-6, 6-3, and then reached the semi-finals with wins over Brad Brooks of San Mateo, 6-0, 6-3, and the No. 1 seed Randy Hawkinson of Sacramento, 6-0, 6-0.

Cathy Machette of Belvedere and Debby Bank of San Francisco won from Valerie Morris and Sherry Cickert of San Leandro in the girls 16 doubles, 7-5, 4-6, 10-8, and then lost to Georgette Stratos and Linda Hancock, 6-2, 6-4.

Muffet Hemingway of Mill Valley, playing out of her age class, lost to seeded players Jennifer Lowen of Los Altos in the 18s, 6-0, 6-3, and to Vicki Kiyomora of Palo Alto in the 16s, 6-0, 6-1.

Raiders Swap Jackson To Buffalo Bills

To obtain Jackson, a 24-year-old, 195-pound outside runner —the Bills surrendered to Oakland offensive tackle Ken Rice, their No. 1 draft choice in 1960.

Jackson, drafted in 1962 by the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League, was traded to Washington by Cleveland with Bobby Mitchell for draft rights to the late Ernie Davis. Jackson played two seasons with Washington before going to Oakland.

Yesterday the Bills obtained center Walt Cudzik, who moved from Boston to Denver before his shift to Buffalo. He was exchanged for linebacker Marv Matuczak and defensive back Billy Atkins.

A Record of Achievement

Supervisor Byron Leydecker is the man with the scope and vision needed to guide our county's growth. He has brought to the Board of Supervisors a new vigor and leadership in the approach to the problems of the First District and Marin County. A leader in the fight to ease the tax burden and reduce the costs of government, his actions and his accomplishments have been in the best interest of all of the citizens. As a Supervisor he has been a consistently strong advocate of good planning—the establishment of both sound physical and economic guidelines for our growth.

To ease the tax burden Supervisor Leydecker has actively pursued means of broadening and equalizing the county's unequal tax base. He initiated the first major economic study of the county which will determine the type of industry and economic activity compatible with our needs and desires and which will serve to guide the county's efforts to strengthen the tax base. He developed a program, which is gaining support throughout the state, to induce the State Legislature to modify the existing tax structure to ease the home owner's tax burden.

Supervisor Leydecker has been a leader in the never-ending battle to reduce governmental costs. He was primarily responsible for the formation of the Local Government Coordinating Committee which is exploring the means of reducing the operational expenses, while maintaining the level of service, of the 100 plus governmental agencies in the county by eliminating much of the expensive overlap. His functional consolidation plan—consolidation of operations while retaining local determination—is receiving wide support.

To prevent economic interests alone from dictating the growth of the county, Supervisor Leydecker has been a consistent supporter of sound planning. As a member of the Local Agencies Formation Commission he is developing standards, which will serve to bring orderly growth to our communities. His work on behalf of the Marin Transit District will aid in solving our transportation problems. His humane and compassionate understanding of the needs of the elderly, the mentally ill, the minorities, and others, coupled with his willingness to support them has won him the acclaim of many.

Supervisor Leydecker, as president of San Rafael's own Redwood National Bank, has a firm understanding of the complexities of administering our county's multi-million dollar budget to assure us of the best value for our tax dollar. As a native of the Bay Area married to the daughter of an old San Rafael family and having lived in Terra Linda and Marinwood before moving, with their three children, to their present home in San Rafael, he is best suited to represent the interests of all of the citizens of the First District.

Womanhood May Have Chance At Moon

By WILLIAM E. HOWARD
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON—The space agency is ready to make peace with scientists who want to go to the moon — and, perhaps, with American womanhood too.

Preparations are being made to create a pool of 40 to 50 scientists who could qualify for space flight. Out of this group, five or 10 later would be picked for intensive astronaut training. One or more would be selected for a moon flight after the initial landing.

WOMEN SCIENTISTS will be accepted, if they can qualify.

Dr. Hugh Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, doesn't extend much encouragement to women as astronauts, but he indicated that the agency is relaxing some of its rigid requirements that have barred all female aspirants up to now.

Astronaut Gordon Cooper told a gathering of newsmen the thinking is that a scientist would have to be young and on a par physically with an astronaut to qualify. He would also have to be an experienced jet pilot, but he wouldn't need 1,500 hours flying time or more as was required of the last group of astronauts accepted into the program.

Moreover, the scientist must be fairly brilliant and be a geologist, biologist, chemist or have some other specialty pertinent to lunar exploration. Screening for scientific excellence will be done by the academy.

HOW MANY WOMEN scientists can measure up isn't known. Academy officials, on the other hand, say there are a number of male scientists with doctorate degrees who are qualified on jets.

Intensive training for the five or 10 who are picked to become full-fledged astronauts would begin in 1967 or 1968, Dryden said.

THIS ARRANGEMENT for training scientist-astronauts was made only after much bitter complaining by scientists, who objected to being prohibited from exploring the moon. NASA took the position that safety came first and thus only highly qualified astronauts could make the extremely hazardous lunar flight. The agency relented last year enough to look further into the question. It is only now, however, that a decision has been made to go through with a scientist-astronaut training program.

ON THE QUESTION of female astronauts, Dryden said, "If we could be sure that everything worked okay we would put a woman up there now." But there is always the unexpected to contend with, and "we want to make sure we can get back if we run into an emergency."

The administrator did not refer to the fact that the Russians managed to send Valentina Tereshkova around the globe 48 times last June and bring her down safely.

BUT DRYDEN SAID there would be an American woman in space "in time."

Farewell Parties Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. Olson

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Many farewell luncheons and dinner parties are being given for Mr. and Mrs. Allen A. Olson of Belveron Gardens, Tiburon, who are moving to Charlotte, N.C., because of his business transfer. He is with General Electric Co. and has been made district manager for the Southeastern District of the company.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Parnell of Tiburon are honoring the Olsons at a champagne party June 6 which will be attended by many of their friends. Mrs. Olson had honor place at the luncheon Mrs. Joseph Keller and Mrs. Jack Kampmeyer gave at the latter's home on Paradise Drive in Tiburon. Nineteen friends attended the no-host luncheon held at Sabella's in honor of Mrs. Olson. The party was arranged by Mrs. Lester Gorsline and Mrs. Ben Perkins. Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Burdgett of San Anselmo entertained the Olsons at a cocktail party and dinner.

The Olsons, who leave for North Carolina June 8, have two daughters, Janet and Peggy. Mrs. Olson has held several offices in St. Hilary's Parent Teacher Group, and has been active in the Belveron Guild of Sunnyhills, Bel Aire Parent-Teacher Club and has also worked with the Brownies. Her husband has held several posts in the Belveron Property Owners Assn. and is a member of the Tiburon Volunteer Fire Department.

MR. AND MRS. BERNARD J. GRATAMA of Sausalito left a week ago for a tour of Europe. They flew to Rome and after going to Greece and the Grecian islands will fly to Portugal where they will get a car and tour that country. They will be met by Mr. Gratama's sister, Mme. F. E. H. Groneman of The Hague, Holland, in Lisbon, who will make the tour with them before they go on to Holland. While there Mr. Gratama will attend the 350th anniversary of the University of Groningen, from which he was graduated.

Next on the Gratamas' itinerary will be Zermatt, Switzerland, where they will meet the William Ballards, who sold their house in Tiburon and are spending a year in Europe. The Gratamas will sail back to the United States by freighter. They will see the World's Fair in New York, then go to Annapolis to visit Mrs. Gratama's family. They will return to Sausalito in September. During their absence, Mr. and Mrs. William W. Sterling (Molly Merrill) will stay at their home.

It's Become Fashionable Way To Spend Afternoon In Beirut

BEIRUT (AP)—Donating blood to the Red Cross has become a fashionable way to spend an afternoon here, and Beirut's high society is rolling up its sleeves and bleeding with enthusiasm.

The donations started after the Lebanese Red Cross launched a "Friendship Society of Blood Givers," aimed at cutting down the number of professional donors who sell their blood for $10 a pint.

"Beirut needs the professional donors too," said a Red Cross official, "but some of them who need the money badly will not tell if they have communicable diseases, and their blood can be dangerous."

ON THE ASSOCIATION'S first day of operation, members of Parliament, government officials, cafe society figures, priests and foreign residents of Lebanon—all attracted by free radio and newspaper appeals—lined up to give blood.

Mrs. Philip Takla, wife of Lebanon's foreign minister, was one of the first to take a brief medical exam, fill out a form and donate 400 cubic centimeters of blood. With her was Madame Pierre Edde, daughter-in-law of a former president and wife of the head of the Bankers Association.

THE COUNTRY'S FIRST woman member of Parliament, Madame Myrna Khazen, phoned to say she had a bad cold, but sent her husband to donate in her place. Another MP looked at several fellow deputies rolling up their sleeves and said:

"This is the closest any of us have gotten to our voters."

Minister of Public Works Pierre Gemayel was refused due to an old accident injury, but he called out members of his Phalange Party to make donations.

IN THE LINEUP was one professional donor — a former French Foreign Legionnaire—with a rare type of blood which he usually sells for up to $17 a pint.

Beirut hospitals pay good prices for blood, and many students and other needy citizens make a regular practice of donating.

Marin AAUW Member Wins In State Sculpture Contest

Mrs. John C. Braman, member of Marin Branch of the American Assn. of University Women, won first prize for her entry "Red Dray" in the sculpture category at the Art Exhibit of the California AAUW State Division. The exhibit was sponsored by the Division at the 43rd annual convention in San Francisco last week.

Mrs. Braman's was one of 80 entries in the exhibit which features several media. Her horse, standing 10 inches high, was sculpted from a salt cowlick which she chiseled, waxed and sanded. The end result was strongly suggestive of woodcarving, according to Rudy Turk, director of the Richmond Art Center, who served as Judge.

Although Mrs. Braman has not exhibited for 10 years, she works in many media including oils, watercolors and mosaics She holds a bachelor's degree in fine arts from Washington State University. She and her husband and daughter moved recently from Santa Maria to a Lucas Valley home, where she has put a room to use as a studio.

BEACH EXPANSION STUDY IS URGED

Bolinas, Stinson Districts Consolidation Needs Feasibility Study, Board Says

By FRANK FARRARA

Districts in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach area should study the feasibility of consolidating facilities or be stopped from expanding.

That's the recommendation of the staff of the Bay Regional Water Pollution Control Board in a report on long-range planning and policy for the area.

If the districts do not undertake a study now, the regional board should prohibit expansion until the study is made, the report says.

Specifically, the report states, the board should prohibit any waste discharge or any increase in the existing waste discharge.

The districts in the area are the Bolinas Beach and Bolinas Public Utility Districts and the Stinson Beach County Water District.

An earlier plan for a combined feasibility study by the three districts ended when the Bolinas PUD withdrew its support.

The proposed joint study should determine the economic and engineering feasibility of a sewage collection and disposal complex in the Bolinas-Stinson Beach watershed, says the water pollution control board.

One of the cost factors that caused the Bolinas PUD to withdraw from the original plan has changed, the report says.

"Recent estimates indicate that the cost of constructing a sewer line across the mouth of Bolinas Lagoon is less than half the cost cited by Bolinas PUD as a reason for withdrawing from the area-wide joint study," the report declares.

The staff also recommends that discharge of sewage to Bolinas Lagoon, Bolinas Bay or the channel between Bolinas Bay and Bolinas Lagoon be prohibited.

It suggests the control board consider confining waste to land until the assessed valuation is sufficient to finance a treatment plant and disposal facilities that would meet requirements.

The use of septic tanks and leaching systems is a temporary solution, the report says. Therefore it suggests that all legislative and planning bodies in Marin County and the Marin County Health Department:

1. Require connection to a public sewer as a condition of development of any subdivision.

2. Investigate the feasibility of connection to public sewers prior to approval of any septic tank permits.

3. Deny septic tank permits where connection to a public feasible or where disposal from a subsurface leaching system would adversely affect the ground water suitable for domestic use.

The study covered 10,400 acres that drains to the Pacific Ocean between the southern end of Point Reyes National Seashore and Rocky Point.

The staff's recommended long range plan and policy will go to the regional board for adoption July 16.

Although the staff did not investigate the water supply for the area, it reported that the Bolinas-Stinson Beach domestic water supply eventually will come from an outside source.

"The remoteness of the Bolinas PUD from possible supply from Marin Municipal Water District and the cost of development of sources of supplemental water supply may enforce a strict limitation on the growth and development of the Bolinas area," the report says.

Budget Reviewed

Bolinas-Stinson Union School District trustees reviewed the 1964-65 budget Tuesday before an audience of three teachers and one parent but took no action. The board plans to discuss the budget again at its regular meeting at 8 p.m., June 9 at Bolinas School, according to Henry B. Lacaze, president.

JERRY L. PEAVY
Served in two wars

Two-War Vet Will Retire From Army

Lt. Col. Jerry L. Peavy of 353 Quietwood Drive, Marinwood, a veteran of two wars, will retire from the Army Monday after more than 20 years service.

Colonel Peavy has been chief of the individual services branch of the Sixth Army at the Presidio of San Francisco since June, 1962.

During World War II he commanded infantry units in the Asiatic-Pacific Theater. During the Korean War, he served in six battle campaigns.

A native of Mountain View, Santa Clara County, he entered the Army in June, 1941, and was commissioned an officer in August, 1942.

He served as a company commander with the 185th Infantry Regiment, 40th Infantry Division, in the Pacific. After a two-year break in service, he returned to active duty in May, 1948, and served as a company commander in the Second Infantry Division in Korea.

He also was a professor of military science at Westminster College, Fulton, Mo., and a troop information officer in Europe, at Sixth Army Headquarters, 1959-61, and in Korea.

Cars Mixed Up In Novato Crash

The car driven by Anthony Fernandes, 73, of San Mateo, which was westbound on Center Road, was struck by the northbound car of Camille Dianne Malin.

Fernandes told Novato police he had stopped for the intersection and then pulled out onto Wilson Avenue, which is a through street. Fernandes was cited for failure to yield the right of way by Novato police.

TAM UNIFICATION

Ballot May Not Be Decisive One

By PHIL FRADKIN
(First of two articles)

After tens of thousands of words have been spoken and written on the subject of the proposed Tamalpais Unified School District, voters next Tuesday will have a chance to decide the issue.

However the decision may not be decisive.

If the measure to consolidate the 11 elementary school districts into the Tamalpais High School District fails, the Marin County Committee on School District Organization will go back to work.

Whether the committee will come up with the same plan or another plan to submit to voters, nobody can tell at this time.

If the proposal to unify the district passes by a majority on Tuesday, board members, who will be elected at the same time, will take office in one week.

State law provides that the first meeting of the new board of the unified school district must be called by the county superintendent of schools no later than June 22.

For one year, until July 1, 1965, the board will operate without a district. It will be dependent on the county schools office and individual districts for use of facilities and money for a minimum administrative operation.

The board can plan its budget and facilties and hire a superintendent. It could call a bond or tax increase election. But the district will not go into effect until July 1, 1965.

There would be no immediate change of teaching personnel in the unified district. Superintendents in the districts, some of whom have four-year contracts, will remain for the length of their contracts. However, their positions can be changed.

School district administrators and principals, who are hired on a one-year basis, would remain for at least that one year. With 12 school districts being consolidated into one, it is probable that some jobs would be eliminated.

There are three proposals on the ballot pertaining to unification.

A majority vote is needed to pass the proposition, "unification of school districts and establishment of trustee areas." Next, voters will decide on one candidate for the unified school district board from each of seven trustee areas—with each voter balloting for seven trustees to serve by area.

The third proposal is for the new district to assume the bonded indebtedness of 11 school districts. Nicasio has no bonded indebtedness. For passage of this measure, a two-thirds majority is needed in each school district.

Bonded indebtedness within the proposed unified district ranges from 37 cents in the Reed district to four cents in the Sausalito district, and none at all in Nicasio.

If this measure fails, and the other two measures pass, the districts would be kept intact in a bookkeeping sense, with their taxpayers paying off their separate and different bonded indebtedness.

Assuming the proposal to level the bonds throughout the district passes, the tax rate for new district would be higher in six of the 11 existing districts.

At present the operating tax rate for the unified district is estimated at $4.11 per $100 of assessed valuation. Passage of tax measures Tuesday in Nicasio and Larkspur School Districts could push this figure up to $4.18. Whatever this works out to be would become the maximum operating tax rate for the new district, and could be increased only by a vote of the people.

On top of the maximum operating tax, figured on a weighted average of all tax limits, goes 39 cents for bond redemption and 44 cents for current override taxes in the elementary districts. The total is $5.01.

Present school districts where the tax rate would go up are: Bolinas-Stinson, now totaling $3.54 for elementary and high schools; Sausalito, $4.59; Mill Valley, $4.99; Larkspur, $4.94; Fairfax, $4.62, and Nicasio $2.97.

Tax rates would go down in San Anselmo and Lagunitas, now totaling $5.27; Kentfield, $5.17; Ross, $5.15, and Reed, $5.04.

Silver was once used only as a monetary standard and as decorative metal, but lately increasing uses have been found for it in industry. The shiny metal is a major ingredient in making photographic film. Silver's conductivity and resistance to corrosion makes it valuable in the electronics field.

Birth Control Stand Might Be Re-Examined

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A Vatican publication and a leading cardinal suggested yesterday that the Roman Catholic Church may re-examine its stand on birth control in view of medical discoveries concerning birth control pills.

The comments from L'Osservatore Della Domenica and Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviano came amidst growing discussion among Roman Catholics about use of the pills.

While saying that the matter must be examined—possibly by the Vatican Ecumenical Council — Cardinal Ottaviani called for Catholic churchmen to stop discussing the pill question in public.

The cardinal, conservative head of the Vatican Holy Office which guards doctrine and morals, said that only the Pope could make pronouncements "on such grave and debated questions."

In an article titled "About Birth Control Pills," L'Osservatore Della Domenica said oral contraceptive pills now on sale are forbidden to Catholics. The publication ruled out any "revolutionary changes" in the church's position.

But L'Osservatorie said that there exists a favorable attitude among some moralists toward development of pills to make ovulation predictable.

The publication said this attitude does not justify altering church regulations on marriage.

But it added, "It is sufficient, however, to justify the continuation of studies and of experiments in scientific research which could lead to conclusions susceptible of being taken in close and respectful consideration by church moralists for a rethinking of the question."

Mosk Seeking Curb On Free Ammunition

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has asked the secretary of defense for information and tightened controls on the Army's distribution of free ammunition to gun clubs.

Some of the ammunition is falling into the hands of extremist groups which "speak of arms and violence," Mosk said in a letter to Robert McNamara, which was made public yesterday.

GOP Senate Hopefuls' Views Are Presented

The Democratic race for U.S. Senate between State Controller Alan Cranston and former presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger has been widely publicized.

Candidates for Republican nomination for the same Senate seat are less well known. And so, for Republican voters who are not acquainted with the three men in the race, here is a brief sketch of each:

FRED HALL, 47, Los Angeles attorney, lives in Long Beach with his wife, Leadell. They have a son attending University of California at Los Angeles.

A native of Kansas, Hall won his law degree at University of Southern California in 1941. He went back to Kansas, became district attorney, lieutenant governor, governor, then justice of the state supreme court until 1958.

Back in California, Hall was executive with Aerojet General Corp. in Sacramento and manager for the California World's Fair to be held in Long Beach in 1967. He is now in private law practice. In 1962, he was president of the California Republican Assembly.

He believes the Communist challenge in Cuba, Berlin, Vietnam and elsewhere is the greatest single problem today. He believes in the United Nations, North Atlantic Treaty Organization and Organization of American States as instruments of international policy but does not agree with some of the uses made of them by the administration.

He favors the Civil Rights Bill and a Republican compromise Medicare bill. He opposes admission of Red China to the UN.

LELAND M. KAISER, 57, heads Insurance Securities Inc. and several other business firms. He lives with his wife, Kathleen at Atherton. They have a son, a married daughter, and a grandchild.

A native of Los Angeles, Kaiser attended schools in Oakland and University of California. He worked his way up in the business world and now heads a multi-million dollar financial empire. He is not related to Henry J. Kaiser.

Kaiser urges a "tough" foreign policy. He calls U.S. negotiators like Adlai Stevenson "soft." In trouble spots such as Vietnam, Kaiser would "get in and clean it up or get out."

He says the current Civil Rights Bill involves too much federal intervention into states' rights. Describing himself as a "card carrying capitalist," he is against government subsidies.

Kaiser opposes trade of any kind with Red China and its admission to the United Nations. He is sympathetic to the objectives of the UN but is definitely against having UN policies take precedent over U.S. policies.

He has lashed out against what he calls Democratic blunders in Cuba, Canal Zone and other trouble areas.

GEORGE MURPHY, 61, former song and dance performer of both films and stage, is now executive of Technicolor Corp. He lives with his wife, Julie, in Beverly Hills. They have a son, 25, and a daughter, 20.

Murphy attended schools in New York and New Jersey, then three years at Yale University as a mining engineering major. Active in Republican politics for 25 years, he was 1953 state chairman of the Republican Central Committee.

He declines to take a stand on the Civil Rights Bill until a final draft is completed.

Murphy opposes any trade with Red China. In Vietnam, he would go in with a "win policy" or get out completely. He would either control Cuba in some way or give the people a chance to select the type of government they want. "It's ridiculous to have a Communist country 90 miles off our shores," says Murphy.

Murphy accuses the Democrats of "having no foreign policy." He says appointive officials in Washington are taking control and giving aid to Communists.

A RARE AWARD—William Kinz of San Rafael (left) gets an advance peek at a 50-year service pin from Elias S. Day, North Bay Division manager for Pacific Gas and Electric Co. Kinz, an electric distribution engineer with PG&E in San Rafael, will be awarded the pin tonight in Santa Rosa. Only 12 other pins have been awarded in the history of the company.

RARE HONOR

Utility Employee Due 50-Year Service Pin

William (Bill) Kinz of 66 Marina Court Drive, San Rafael, will receive a rare honor tonight in Santa Rosa, a 50-year service pin from Pacific Gas and Electric Co.

In the history of the company, only 12 other employees have earned the 50-year pin, which has an 18-point diamond in the center. James B. Black, chairman of the board of PG&E, is the only other living recipient of the award.

Kinz, an electric distribution engineer in San Rafael, has been with the company continuously since 1914, except for World War I service in the Army in 1917-19.

Members of his family who either have been or are PG&E employees include his father, two brothers, five nephews, a brother-in-law, and a son-in-law.

He started work with PG&E at the age of 14 as an errand boy in the Sacramento supply office. In 1920 he was transferred to Auburn as chief clerk.

He became a senior engineering estimator in Woodland in 1942, and then was transferred to San Rafael in 1947, advancing to assistant supervisor and later supervisor of estimates and records before being promoted to his present job in 1955.

Service awards also will be presented to 105 other PG&E employees at a dinner and ceremony in Santa Rosa tonight.

Tam Unity Plan Debate Set Tonight

Debat on proposed Tamalpais Unified School District has been scheduled for 8 p.m. today at Lagunitas School, sponsored by the San Geronimo Valley Assn.

At least two candidates for the proposed district's board of trustees also will appear.

Speaking for the unification will be Mrs. Frances Compton, chairman of a League of Women Voters committee which has studied the matter. Opposing it will be John E. Cahill, chairman of Citizens Against Excessive Unification.

Trustee candidates Roy R. Bunt of Nicasio and Laurence G. Hermann of Fairfax will give short talks and will answer questions from the audience.

L. A. Moulton of Forest Knolls, president of the Association, said all other candidates for the proposed board would be welcomed, but the group would not attempt to contact them all individually.

Moulton said the debate would be the first in a series of forums dealing with controversial issues.

College Club Elects

Robert Pettyjohn has been elected president of the Psychology Club at College of Marin. Other officers are Russell Lerb, vice president; Luanne Yurkovitch, secretary-treasurer, and Steve Eagle, inter-club council representative.

North Coast Development Tied To Roads

It will be years before "significant" sums of government money are available to iron out the major kinks on the Shoreline Highway in Sonoma and Mendocino counties.

However, Sam Helwer and C. F. Greene, district engineers for the California Division of Highways; and Fred Bagshaw, deputy director of public works, told an all-day session of REA's shoreline highway unit that the winding two-lane road will continue to get improvements at the rate of about 1 million dollars a year.

Bagshaw said the state presently is committed to spend most of its 800-million-dollars a year on interstate freeways.

He opened the door a crack with the guarded prediction that if San Francisco doesn't speedily solve its freeway troubles, millions in state construction funds allocated to that city may be distributed elsewhere.

One large developer, Frederick Simpich, president of Oceanic Properties, Inc., which has purchased a 5200-acre seaside ranch on the north Sonoma Coast, said his firm may shelve its plans until better access roads are ready.

Another financier, William F. Segerstrom of Sonora, who has purchased acreage around Gualala and built an airport to attract lot-buyers, said that "part of the charm of this coast is its inaccessibility" by car.

Engineer Helwer reviewed improvements on the coastal highway since it was accepted into the State system in 1933.

"We have 2.23 million dollars budgeted for a new bridge at Caspal, plus four miles of expressway."

Bagshaw and Greene stressed that improvement of State Route 1 in the Stinson Beach-Olema area of Marin has been stalled, awaiting adoption of a West Marin master plan.

Gordon Patterson, chief ranger for the Point Reyes National Seashore, predicted that more than two million visitors a year eventually will use Point Reyes.

Death Sentence Review Sought

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A petition for a review of the death sentence of Paul Kern Imbler has been filed in the U.S. Supreme Court, claiming that Imbler was convicted on the testimony of a perjurer.

The petition for review was filed yesterday by Imbler's attorneys. They claim he was convicted on the testimony of Alfred Costello. Costello later admitted under oath that he had perjured himself.

An earlier petition asking for a new penalty hearing for Imbler is still pending.

Anti-Pay TV Proposition Wouldn't Ban Bad Pay TV

You could see it on TV this year, IF you pony up $4 for a ticket to a movie house where it is piped in, and IF you could still get a ticket.

This is a form of pay TV. In our estimation it is not a very good form of Pay TV. You might say it's the bad form.

If Dad wants to go and take a couple of kids with him, he is out at least $12 for tickets, plus parking, plus bridge tolls, plus inevitable "extras."

The people who profit from this kind of Pay TV are among those backing the ballot proposition to outlaw Pay TV.

But they don't intend to outlaw the present costly (to the viewer) system of theater monopoly TV.

They want to outlaw the good kind, the kind that would put the Memorial Day 500-mile race onto your own set in your living room where the whole family could see it (plus neighbors, too, if you wish) for perhaps $3. Not $3 each. Just $3, period.

Mervin Field's California Poll shows only slightly more people against the proposition than are for it. If the truth were widely known and understood, the ratio would stand more like 8-to-1 against the proposition. Happily, there is still time before this is voted on in November for more people to perceive the truth of the matter.

Alternative To Highway Hazards

But for Marinites, there's a chance to spend a quiet, leisurely weekend with the family in the picnicky atmosphere of Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

On both Saturday and Sunday, May 30 and 31, the Festival of Performing Arts and other groups will present continuous entertainment—music, dance, drama and other arts. Hours are 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday and noon to 4:15 Sunday.

You can either bask on the lawn or take in any number of shows, dances, concerts, plays, and exhibits. They'll have light snacks and refreshments and even a baby sitting service.

Sounds like a safe and sane program for families who want to get out for some fresh air and yet stay off the highways.

Assemblyman Seeks Tax Deduction For Those Hiring Domestic Help

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — One of the many injustices in both state and federal income laws which has served to cause resentment against this method of collecting taxes has been the refusal of the federal and state governments to permit deductions for the employment of help around the home.

Included in this category are domestic workers, gardeners, baby-sitters and the like.

THE RESULT has been that many people are deterred from hiring this type of help, and many deserving people as a result have work withheld from them because of the inconsistencies of the income tax laws.

For instance, a mercantile establishment can hire as many baby - sitters as it chooses to care for the little ones while mother shops, and deduct the wages from its income tax, both state and federal. But let mother go home and hire a baby-sitter, and both federal and state clamp down if she tries to deduct the wages from the income tax.

From the state standpoint, at least, one assemblyman has decided to try and do something about the matter. He is George R. Danielson (D-Los Angeles), who introduced a bill which would permit the domestic deductions.

HE EXPLAINS that his bill is designed to encourage employment and create more jobs. Tax benefits, if the bill were written into the state law, would make it possible for more persons to employ more domestic help.

"There is no good reason," he says, "why wages paid to employees should not be deductible in all instances.

"With increasing unemployment due to automation and diminishing demands for unskilled labor, it is high time we take effective steps to encourage employment of unskilled workers.

"WE COULD PROVIDE more jobs for these workers if we would simply make it easier for people to employ them. Many young parents and working mothers would employ full-time child care if they could afford to do so.

"By permitting the deduction from taxable income of wages paid to private, as well as business employees, we would be making a substantial and realistic contribution toward providing jobs for the unskilled workers, and thereby would relieve unemployment."

Obviously, Assemblyman Danielson had no hope of getting the measure through the legislature this year, as the timing element practically precluded taking up a measure of this type before adjournment.

However, there is another session in 1965, and at that time, it is probable that the measure will be given some serious consideration.

10 YEARS AGO

Darrell D. Huffman of San Rafael, manager of the San Rafael Western Union office for 13 years, was named district supervisor of the company in San Francisco.

Old St. Hilary's Catholic Church in Tiburon, built in 1888, was used as an emergency classroom by 22 sixth graders and their teacher, Lawrence McArdell, crowded out of Reed School.

20 YEARS AGO

At a dinner for the Reserve Police Officers Assn., San Anselmo's Chief Donald O. Wood made a surprise presentation of a gold badge to City Councilman Arthur W. Smith.

County Supervisor T. Fred Bagshaw was re-elected to his District Three seat by a 700-vote majority over Sausalito City Councilman Randolph Pettersen.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Column Helps Woman Reader

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am grateful to you for printing "Three Minutes A Day."

One evening I read the verse found in Matthew 19:20, "If Ye Have Faith As a Grain Of Mustard Seed, Ye Shall Say Unto This Mountain, Remove Hence To Yonder Place; And It Shall Remove; And Nothing Shall Be Impossible Unto You."

I didn't realize then this was the beginning of a new life for me.

I became more aware of our living Jesus Christ and so many wonderful things have happened. He makes it possible for us to remove the things that seem impossible.

After 20 years of smoking I was able to give it up and am so thankful to be free.

I hope this will encourage others who at this time are struggling to give up the habit to that which we become slaves to.

No Need For Name-Calling

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Alan K. Shelton's letter, published May 22, reflects an unthinking emotionalism which is unworthy of the educational level upon which the Marin electorate prides itself.

Let it be clearly understood that the Mill Valley city manager is responsible—and responsive — to the city council of Mill Valley. Mr. Shelton's letter is thoughtless, needlessly vituperative, and a gratuitous insult to Mr. Balmer, who only acts at the direction of the city council.

To paraphrase Mr. Shelton's own words, "I am sincerely convinced that Marin County in general and the good people of Mill Valley and Tamalpais Valley can do very well without your name-calling, Mr. Shelton."

Mill Valley Library Bond Defeat Urged

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On June 2, Mill Valley voters will decide whether they want to remove land from Old Mill Park in order to build a new library. Proponents of such action have cited the justifiable need for a more modern library building. There is no doubt that the bond issue involved would provide such a building, but while it satisfies this one need, it would also aggravate another community need of at least equal importance — that of maintaining sufficient and convenient public park land.

In addition to the square footage removed from Old Mill Park for the building itself, the library would indeed intrude on the character and function of the park to the extent that the park becomes a library parking lot. The library user may not object to parking under redwoods, but the park user would most definitely object to competing for the remainder of the area still allotted to its original recreational and aesthetic purposes. The function of a library, no matter how worthwhile, is simply not compatible with the function of a park.

Aside from this and other immediate problems involved in the particular bond measure, voters should consider some broader questions before making a decision. Is it important for Mill Valley to pressure existing park facilities (especially those as unique as Old Mill Park) as a fundamental and positive portion of this community? Will the approval of this bond measure set a precedent of expediency in seizing park land for purposes which may not always be as worthwhile as a library? Is it likely that the city council's pledge (namely, to buy land to compensate for Old Mill Park's loss) will easily be forgotten as time goes by—or, at best, be met with land of inferior quality and location? Is it worthwhile to expend greater effort and study to locate a more logical library site which will enhance, rather than detract from, the community and its appearance?

If the answer to these questions is "yes," voters should cast their ballots against the June 2 bond measure. A vote against the measure is, more importantly, a vote for preserving Mill Valley's public park land.

Larkspur School Bonds Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

It is gratifying to see an occasional news article about Larkspur, such as the picture of the bell-ringing mothers, in your newspaper. However, I have been hoping to see an article or editorial that would bring home to the people in the Larkspur School District the financial difficulties our school district and their community is facing.

I have attended many school board meetings and I have seen this board build a solid basic elementary curriculum, always searching for improvements, and making the most of what limited funds were available. My two daughters have been receiving an excellent education, but I am concerned about the future, with a third daughter entering kindergarten next year and the cutbacks in personnel, programs and services that have already been made.

I feel that if everyone in our community will take the time to learn the facts, they will see the importance of passage of the Larkspur School District Tax and Bond Issue on June 2.

So, how about a more complete coverage of a local issue, but one that is so important to our children?

Vietnam, Laos Going Down Drain? Officals Fear Worst Is Happening

WASHINGTON—Are South Vietnam and Laos going down the drain of Communist aggression—and after that, the rest of Southeast Asia?

I know of no knowledgeable official in Washington who dares pretend that the worst may not be happening right now.

The last thing we can afford to do is to blur or misstate the immediate issue. The immediate issue is this:

THE COMMUNIST forces in Laos and Vietnam are well launched on an expanded, thrusting campaign to sweep the neutralist government out of Laos and the independent government out of Saigon by Nov. 3.

Apparently the Communists are confident that, while they are stepping up the war in Indo-China, the United States will be immobilized by the presidential campaign.

They may well be misjudging President Lyndon B. Johnson. He is not disposed to be either soft or timid. But there are some reasons for misgivings.

AN ADMINISTRATION official, high enough to be informed and one who tends to plain speaking, remarked privately a few days ago: "The best we can expect in Vietnam is a holding operation until after the elections."

He was, I am sure, expressing his fears, not his hopes.

It is true that, at the direction of the president, U. S. Ambassador Adlai Stevenson used strong words at the U. N. Security Council last week. He said that "if anyone has the illusion that my government will abandon the people of Vietnam," that could "only be due to ignorance of the strength and conviction of the American people."

BUT SIMULTANEOUSLY a group of Democratic senators joined together in a campaign to persuade the American people and to coerce President Johnson "to bring the boys back home from South Vietnam," where, they claim, they were sent "to fight an illegal war." Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore.) calls it "McNamara's War"—the way Sen. Robert Taft used to call the defense of Korea "Truman's War."

This is not just a lonely crusade by Senator Morse. He is supported by Sen. Ernest Gruening (D - Alaska), Sen. Frank Church (D-Ida.), and not a few Southern senators, including Olin Johnston of South Carolina and James Eastland of Mississippi.

And, most dismaying of all, the Democratic majority leader, Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), has just renewed his plea for Gen. Charles de Gaulle's give-up plan to neutralize South Vietnam and recall U. S. troops.

IT IS ALL VERY well for Stevenson to talk about "the conviction of the American people" to stand firmly behind South Vietnam. But there is no firmness in public support for the administration's handling of the Vietnamese war. The evidence is that only a minority backs the administration's conduct of the war. The reason is that neither President John F. Kennedy nor President Johnson have effectively expounded the stake the United States has in preventing the Communists from unhinging the South Vietnamese gate to Southeast Asia.

Johnson has always said that we intend to stand by the South Vietnamese and Stevenson said it again at the U. N.

But are we going to stand by the South Vietnamese until we are both defeated or are we going to do whatever is necessary to turn back the Communist aggression? That is the hard question.

THE ALLEN-SCOTT REPORT

Breakthrough Made On Medicare Bill

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — A major breakthrough has been made in the House ways and means committee on the administration's long - stalled medicare bill.

Agreement in principal has been reached by a majority of the committee's 25 members on a compromise three-part program which provides:

A 5 per cent across-the-board hike in Social Security benefits for the 12 million people now receiving these payments.

LIBERALIZATION of the Kerr - Mills federal - state matching program to permit payment of physician costs as well as hospital bills and include an additional 100,000 needy, elderly persons not now eligible.

Establishment of a new program of hospital insurance coverage under the Social Security retirement program for persons 65 and over.

Under this tentatively-approved medical care package, put together in a series of backstage meetings with Democratic congressional leaders and White House aides, a hospital insurance trust fund would be set up under the Social Security program.

THIS TRUST FUND, designed to defray the cost of the new hospital care program, would be financed by an increase in the Social Security payroll tax from the present maximum of 3.75 per cent to 7.5 per cent. The payroll tax would be increased to 10 per cent in 1972.

These increased funds would pay the hospital costs for the first 45 days of all elderly persons covered under the new medical care program. No doctor bills would be paid.

Still unsettled are the date this program would become effective and the amount of taxes an individual would have to pay into the fund before becoming eligible for hospital insurance coverage.

THE LEGISLATORS' new medical care package also includes radical changes in the Kerr - Mills program enacted in 1958 during the Eisenhower administration.

As revised, it would provide 250 million dollars in federal funds to expand both the coverage and benefits under this federal - state matching program.

The highly controversial "means test," which now requires an elderly person to be destitute before benefits can be paid, would be changed to a "cash income test." This test would allow elderly persons to receive up to $2,200 a year from all sources and still be eligible for payment of their medical costs.

THE PROPOSED 5 per cent living - cost boost for those now receiving Social Security benefits would be the first since 1958. It raises the existing $127 maximum to approximately $135 for a retired individual.

To pay for these higher benefits, the legislators plan to hike the Social Security tax base (currently fixed at the first $4,800 of income) to $5,200. This would amount to an additional annual payment of $13 for every worker — matched by his employer.

Teen-Agers Drop Word 'Immoral,' Think In Terms Of Individual

MORAL AND IMMORAL, as words defining a code of behavior, have been dropped from the vocabulary of high school students.

Instead, the conduct of youths in the high school age bracket is governed by what they think is right, on an individual basis, and "what is socially acceptable."

These are among the findings contained in a story examining morality, or its absence, at Redwood High School by Hennie Lyons. They are published in the last issue of the student newspaper, the Redwood Bark.

MISS LYONS STATES that the majority of students do not believe that moral standards have dropped. The students cite changing moral values and increased publicity as giving this impression. A minority of the students contacted by Miss Lyons believe standards have dropped.

Students quoted in the story point to the decline of the church and weak parental control as forces behind changing codes of behavior. Youths are left alone more often by their parents, because the automobile affords an easy method for parents to get away.

Youths drink to relax, to get high, to feel big and in the natural course of the rebellion typical of the age they are passing through. Stealing is "just something else to do," although this does not mean that all students do it.

BUT IF TEEN-AGE morals are lower now, what were they in earlier times? The students point to the racier plays of Shakespeare and the movie "Tom Jones" to show that morals, at least in the adult world, have not changed.

The comprehensive examination of the state of teenage morality is backed up by an editorial in the same issue of the student newspaper, headlined "Student Morals, Interest, Spirit All Going Down The Drain."

The editorial writer was recently a target for two oranges, an apple and half a tuna fish sandwich while walking through the covered eating area. The writer states that she saw a student teacher pelted with food by underclassmen.

IN ADDITION, the editorial states, "We have sat by, watching students ridicule members of self-government and now the teachers have to patrol Redwood's halls."

Miss Lyons ends her story with a question and a partial answer.

She asks: "What has happened that makes students have so little respect that they throw garbage all around the school grounds and completely ignore adult authority?

"If this respect has been lost," she quotes one student as saying, "our basic morals must be weaker, too."

How Many Of These Conclusions Do You Agree, Disagree With?

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping at conclusions:

Dogs eat better and live longer than they did a generation ago, but they have less fun out of life — just like many people.

They have the same problem, too—boredom.

The quickest way to cure a human being of boredom is to give him an ailment of some kind, even if it is only a stomach ache. The quickest way to cure a dog of boredom is to put a single flea on him. It may keep him busy for days.

IN LITERATURE, the businessman is often portrayed as a cliche-ridden near illiterate. In actual fact the average successful industrial executive can use language more effectively than the average college professor.

The real reason a wife likes to send her husband's clothes to the cleaner isn't to make him look neater. It's because this gives her a good excuse to go through his pockets.

One of the reasons we look forward to going to heaven is that no one has to ride commute buses there.

MOST PICKPOCKETS are skinny. Confidence men, on the other hand, often tend to be overweight — perhaps because most people unconsciously tend to trust fat men.

When a warden picks a convict to work around his home, he usually chooses one under sentence for murder. Why? Murderers are usually more trustworthy. They rarely steal.

Fame and fortune wait today on the genius who can figure out some economic use for old hula hoops. Isn't there some way we can fit them into our foreign aid program?

The worst braggart to put up with is the guy who not only kicked the cigarette habit—but boasts he did it without putting on a single pound.

Opening lead—♥2

The first trick was perculiar but very revealing. West led the deuce of hearts, a strange choice, and East played low.

South won the first trick with the seven of hearts and realized that the trump honors were split, since neither opponent would have played low if he held both trump honors.

South decided to leave the trumps alone for a trick or two. He led a spade from his hand and finessed dummy's nine, losing to the ten.

When East returned the four of clubs, South knew that West surely had the king of clubs. From East's point of view, a club return would be very dangerous if it meant leading away from the king.

East could safely return his remaining heart since the damage in that suit had already been done.

TAKES ACE

Trusting East to know what he was doing, declarer stepped up with the ace of clubs. He then cashed the king of hearts and led a spade, taking dummy's ace and queen.

When the spades failed to break, declarer ruffed dummy's last spade and got out with a club. He would be safe if the player with the king of clubs also had the ace of diamonds.

TURNED OUT WELL

It turned out as South hoped. West had to take the king of clubs and lead diamonds. This permitted South to make his own queen as well as dummy's king of diamonds.

South would have gone down if he had played low on East's club return. West would take the king of clubs and get out with a club. South would eventually have to tackle the diamonds by himself, losing two tricks.

QUESTION

You have opened with one club, and partner bids one diamond.

It is once more up to you, holding:

♠ Q J 7 2
♦ A K
♣ J 6 4 3

What do you say?

Answer: Bid two notrump.

One spade would be an underbid, two spades would imply greater strength in the two black suits, and three notrump would be a slight overbid. The jump to two notrump best describes the hand.

ALMANAC

Today is Thursday, May 28, the 149th day of 1964 with 217 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning star is Saturn. The evening star is Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1933, Mrs. Oliva Dionne, with the assistance of a midwife and Dr. Allen Roy Dafoe, a local country doctor, gave birth to five baby girls in her farmhouse near Callender, Ont.

In 1955, Albert Whitehouse, a director of the United Steel-Workers of America, told an audience in Atlantic City, N. J., that automation of the nation's factories will lead to a two-hour work day.

A thought for the day — George Washington said: "To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace."

Soviet Block Focuses On Egypt Copts

By LEO HEIMAN

JERUSALEM (WPS) — The Soviet block, ever alert to divisive opportunities, has recently focused its attention on Egypt's minority Copts, a sizable group of Christians who, it notes, are the victims of Moslem discrimination.

Israeli Communists who have recently returned to Jerusalem from a secret meeting of Middle East Communist Party chiefs in Prague have been circulating a mimeographed pamphlet, in four languages, which deplores the Egyptian discrimination against the Copts.

It quotes liberally from President Gamal Abdul Nasser's speeches to prove that the discrimination is government policy. It cites Nasser as saying, for example, that the Copts "invent their sufferings to get a better deal than the Moslem majority."

The Prague pamphlet includes statistical tables which show there are only 13 Copts among the 400 appointed members of the Egyptian National Assembly, only one Copt among senior government officials, and no Copts among cabinet-level ministers and armed services chiefs.

Says te pamphlet: "The regime (Nasser's) is facing a trying period, filled with frustrations and social unrest, as performance lags behind grandiose promises, despite the generous assistance rendered by the socialist camp. Social justice has not yet been achieved; the toiling masses show signs of disappointment, and the Copts regard themselves as scapegoats and distractions to divert popular resentment from the regime's failures."

To exploit this situation, the Communists have been feverishly engaged in setting up "Freedom Front" among the Copts. Since the Communist Party is outlawed in Egypt, this pro-Communist organization is ostensibly devoted to "spearheading the struggle against imperialism and neo-colonialism, for justice and peace."

So far, it has reportedly attracted "thousands" of frustrated and embittered Copt students, intellectuals, and dissatisfied or dismissed officials from Egypt's Civil Service.

The question that naturally arises is: Why did the atheist Communists time this strange play in defense of the Christian Copts to coincide with Khrushchev's visit?

The answer, according to Kremlinologists here, is apparently that they aim to forge a new and useful weapon capable of creating internal problems for Nasser, which can be applied when, as and if the Neutralist leader should seek to become independent of Moscow by moves either toward the capitalist Western camp or the Communist eastern camp of Red China.

Cairo mortgaged cotton crops and other resources to acquire Sovblock arms, and remains dependent on the Red states for their upkeep in fighting trim. Moscow wants to keep it that way.

Of course Moscow is being very careful not to get directly involved with the Egyptian Copts or the "Freedom Front." It is letting the East European Reds handle this maneuver; hence the choice of Prague as eminating point for the propaganda.

It will be interesting to watch for Nasser's reaction in the months ahead. For the "Copt problem" is no small one for his regime. Out of the Egyptian population of 26.6 million, the number of Copts is estimated to be from four to six million. Thus one out of every four or five Egyptians is a descendant of the Christian Monophysites who formed the bulk of Egypt's population before the country's conquest by Arab Moslems some 1,200 years ago.

The Copts call themselves not only "the original Egyptians," but "the true Egyptian," and they refuse to be assimilated with the Arabs. Their insistence on maintaining their religious and social identity present a real challenge to Nasser's Moslem regime.

The president has declared: "In proportion to his capacity, we give each citizen a chance to work and we do not distribute jobs on the basis of discrimination."

But Christian Westerners who have visited the Copts and written about them report evidence to the contrary. They say the Copts complain of discrimination in government jobs, in education, in religion, and even in some legal situations.

A Coptic lawyer is reported as saying: "A Moslem can not renounce Islam and become a Copt. For in becoming a Copt, he is regarded as dead. It is not clear in Egypt which prevails in a conflict, religious or constitutional principles. The latters says all Egyptians are equal and suffer no disadvantages due to religion; the former places Moslems in a favored position."

1. In the City of Minia there is a hole in the ground which was intended to be a Coptic cathedral. Some 30,000 Copts collected about $45,000 to build it. They paid for the land and started excavating. But the administrator of a government school located nearby complained to the government against having a Coptic church so near, and permission for building the cathedral was never granted.

2. A Coptic engineer who worked for the government waited five years for a promotion. Meanwhile 17 less qualified Moslems in lower ranks were advanced above him. One of them tried to console him by explaining that he, the Copt, had been passed over because he was already well off, having a house and family and even some money inherited from his father which enabled him to take vacations in Europe. Explained the one promoted: "Why I do not even have a grapevine to my name!" And for him that was explanation enough.

3. Then there was the weird case of a Coptic husband and wife who tried to solve their marital problems by conversion to Islam. The wife became a Moslem so she could be free of her husband — for Islamic law does not recognize the marriage of a Moslem woman to a Christian. The husband retaliated by becoming a Moslem so he could have custody of the children — under Islamic preference for the father. The wife then applied to the court for permission to visit her children, but since she had meanwhile reverted to her Coptic religion, permission was denied.

Nasser charges that the Egyptian Copts are obsessed by discrimination. He declares the only answer is for them to integrate and adjust to the New Egypt. But there is little likelihood that they will do so — particularly now that the Communists have organized the "Freedom Front" which the Copts see as freedom from Moslem domination.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

In Glaucoma; Watch For Symptoms Sometimes Muscle Turns To Bone

VAN DELLEN

Pressure within the eyeball is increased in glaucoma. This disorder should be suspected when vision becomes blurred or smoky or colored halos are seen around lights. Glaucoma also must be thought of if eye pain follows watching movies or TV or an emotional upset.

Your sight might be saved some day by keeping these symptoms in mind. The problem in glaucoma is not in diagnosis or treatment; it lies with the victim who fails to seek help when these manifestations appear.

THE EYEBALL normally contains a fluid that flows in and out at a constant rate. It is believed that in glaucoma, more fluid enters than leaves the eyeball because of impaired drainage. As a result, tension increases.

A rapid rise in pressure leads to acute congestion, with sudden diminution of vision as though sight were obscured by a fog. Aching of the eyes and head lasts several hours. Sight returns but the disorder leaves its mark on the sensitive retinal coating in back of the eyes. There may be some loss of focusing power, which is corrected with stronger glasses.

THE CYCLE is repeated with second and third attacks. This explains why those who need stronger glasses more often than they should for their age ought to have the eyeball pressure tested.

Acute glaucoma is not os common as the chronic variety. In this type, eyeball tension increases so gradually the eyes have a chance to adjust to the change and there may be no symptoms. Should the same symptoms ensue as in the acute variety, they are less intense and loss of vision is gradual. This is what makes the chronic form of the disease so dangerous.

Drugs are available to lower tension temporarily. They arrest the condition but do not cure it. Surgery offers permanent relief but is not needed when pressure can be controled by applying a few drops in the eyes periodically.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

CAUSE AND EFFECT

Mrs. C. P. writes: Is pernicious anemia caused by lack of hydrochloric acid in the stomach?

REPLY

No, even though there is no free hydrochloric acid in the stomach of pernicious anemia victims. These individuals cannot absorb vitamin B12 because of a lack of some factor in the stomach wall.

IDENTICAL TWINS

Mrs. B writes: How is it determined whether twins are identical? I mean, besides looking at them.

REPLY

This is done usually at the time of birth in that identical twins come from one egg and generally in a single membrane. On the other hand, blood studies and finger prints offer better clues.

DRY AFTER LIGHT

Mrs. W. O. writes: A nose and throat specialist put a light in my mouth. Since then, my mouth has been dry. Could the light be responsible?

REPLY

No. I assume you had something wrong in the nose or throat before the examination. Why not blame this instead of the light?

NORMAL SALINE SOLUTION

M. P. writes: I'm 86 years old and someone told me washing my eyes in salt water every day will help them. How much salt should I use.

REPLY

One-quarter teaspoon to one-half glass of water. If you want a product with the exact amount ask your druggist for a saline solution eye wash.

"I just fell in love with everyone," she admitted as she said a wistful goodby to everyone from diplomats to White House policemen. And everyone seemed to have fallen in love with Warrie.

The White House stay gave Warrie "a feeling and a spirit that will always be with me."

ON THE AIR AND IN THE PAPER

County Comment
by
BILL FUSSELMAN
INCUMBENT SUPERVISOR
SECOND DISTRICT

Repeating: There is certainly a woeful lack of knowledge respecting county government and affairs.

ONE OF THE CANDIDATES has said I fought having a road along the ridge between Terra Linda and Sleepy Hollow.

THE TRUTH IS, I have been advocating a hill crest route for over eight years! a route to come out onto Sir Francis Drake just north of Oak Manor. I have opposed coming down through Fawn Drive, which would be a dangerous route and also increase the traffic on Butterfield Road. The San Anselmo sector of this road is only two lanes wide. It would cost a fortune to acquire rights of way to widen it.

THE OTHER CANDIDATE claims that I haven't taken care of the road situation through Ross Valley. He couldn't be more wrong. The present Supervisor from the Third District in a speech in Mill Valley in 1962, claimed that I was getting the lion's share of the available funds for District Two.

THE COUNTY has been appropriating money for over ten years to assist the cities with their sectors of Sir Francis Drake. We furnished $85,000 for the Bon Air Bridge project, which was a joint project with Larkspur. The County has also assisted Corte Madera improve Paradise Drive. We have pumped over $120,000 into the Fairfax end of Sir Francis Drake as well as Center Street (the old Northwestern right-of-way). This year we are helping San Anselmo to the tune of some $75,000. From 101 Highway to and including the Wolfe Grade complex the County has spent approximately $330,000 to produce the widening and other improvements. Mr. Ludy and I voted against a severe cut in the Road Budget for 1962-63 . . . but we were in the minority.

YES, THEY SHOW A WOEFUL LACK OF KNOWLEDGE REGARDING COUNTY AFFAIRS and this is understandable. Until they became candidates their attention was on their own private business affairs. NOW, THEY ARE EITHER GUESSING OR HAVE A VERY UNRELIABLE SOURCE OF INFORMATION. I would be reluctant to think they were trying to mislead the public.

Sincerely,
Bill Fusselman

New Assessments Protest Forms Out

A new form for official protests of property assessments is being prepared which will eliminate the requirement that the forms be signed and verified by the county clerk.

Instead, the protester would merely sign a statement that all claims made in the protest are made under penalty of perjury.

A. Leonard Bjorklund Jr., an attorney and president of the Sausalito Chamber of Commerce, asked for the change which was approved by the county board of supervisors Tuesday. The older forms which are now in circulation will be valid, according to County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney.

The board agreed to deliver 500 forms to Bjorklund to be made available to property owners in Southern Marin through the chamber.

Supervisor George H. Ludy said he has taken a stack of forms already for distribution in West Marin. Both areas were recently reappraised by the county assessor's office, a process done once every five years.

Mill Valley Planners Ask Parks Rezoning

Mill Valley Planning Commissioners Tuesday recommended to the city council rezoning from semi public to open area of Boyle, Freeman, Molino, Sycamore, Redwood Grove, Kathleen Norris, the Golf Course, Three Wells and Cascade Reservoir city parks.

The commission set for June 23 public hearing on revocation of a use permit granted William Eberhart last June to install a used car lot on East Blithedale Avenue extension across from Del's Liquors.

Kentfield Graduation Set June 12

One hundred and fourty-four eighth grade students will graduate from Adaline E. Kent School in ceremonies on June 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the school in Kentfield.

Trustee George McKenna of Kentfield School District will hand out the diplomas, and Principal Daniel C. Woodard will present the graduates.

The student speakers are Cory Griffinger and Richard Grey. The welcome to the parents will be given by Louise Nemschoff. Avis Rappoport will read the class roll and Alex Herrmann will accept the diplomas. The salute to the flag will be led by Tom Worth. Tod Fogarty will offer the invocation.

In 1894 the German explorer Count G. A. von Gotzen was so impressed with the dancing Watusis that he claimed Rwanda and Urundi as part of the German colony of Tanganyika.

Assassination 'Bullets Only From Building'

DALLAS (UPI) — A re-enactment of President John F. Kennedy's assassination proved the bullets could have been fired only from the Texas School Book Depository Building, the Dallas Times-Herald said yesterday.

The newspaper said it was informed by reliable sources that the Warren Commission's sole purpose for the re-enactment last Sunday was to prove this point.

It said the re-enactment was prompted by continuing stories that the bullets last Nov. 22 came from either the triple underpass near Elm and Houston streets or from a grassy knoll near the site of the assassination.

In 1705, Englishman Thomas Newcomen invented an engine which used steam to move a water pump piston and which was the basis for later improvements by James Watt, father of the "Steam Age."

Mill Valley Planners Ask Parks Rezoning

Mill Valley Planning Commissioners Tuesday recommended to the city council rezoning from semi public to open area of Boyle, Freeman, Molino, Sycamore, Redwood Grove, Kathleen Norris, the Golf Course, Three Wells and Cascade Reservoir city parks.

The commission set for June 23 public hearing on revocation of a use permit granted William Eberhart last June to install a used car lot on East Blithedale Avenue extension across from Del's Liquors.

Kentfield Graduation Set June 12

One hundred and fourty-four eighth grade students will graduate from Adaline E. Kent School in ceremonies on June 12 at 7:30 p.m. at the school in Kentfield.

Trustee George McKenna of Kentfield School District will hand out the diplomas, and Principal Daniel C. Woodard will present the graduates.

The student speakers are Cory Griffinger and Richard Grey. The welcome to the parents will be given by Louise Nemschoff. Avis Rappoport will read the class roll and Alex Herrmann will accept the diplomas. The salute to the flag will be led by Tom Worth. Tod Fogarty will offer the invocation.

In 1894 the German explorer Count G. A. von Gotzen was so impressed with the dancing Watusis that he claimed Rwanda and Urundi as part of the German colony of Tanganyika.

Assassination 'Bullets Only From Building'

DALLAS (UPI) — A re-enactment of President John F. Kennedy's assassination proved the bullets could have been fired only from the Texas School Book Depository Building, the Dallas Times-Herald said yesterday.

The newspaper said it was informed by reliable sources that the Warren Commission's sole purpose for the re-enactment last Sunday was to prove this point.

It said the re-enactment was prompted by continuing stories that the bullets last Nov. 22 came from either the triple underpass near Elm and Houston streets or from a grassy knoll near the site of the assassination.

In 1705, Englishman Thomas Newcomen invented an engine which used steam to move a water pump piston and which was the basis for later improvements by James Watt, father of the "Steam Age."
